

Henize Observatory

Do you like science?

Do you have one free Saturday evening a month?

Student Docent Program!

Grades 7-12

The Henize Observatory Student Docent Program is a unique, service based learning opportunity at Harper College. Those selected for the Student Docent Program can:

- Learn to operate telescopes
- Assist with hands-on learning activities
- Learn about the universe and share that knowledge with students and adults
- Help create multimedia educational materials
- Meet other students interested in science
- Fulfill community service requirements for your school
- A unique experience for college applications

The Henize Observatory operates every other Saturday from March through November. You may design a schedule that works with your other activities.

All training is provided. Please include letter of recommendation.
