Organic forms that relate to the body, flowers, fruits and candy push Anderson's work to confront ideas of femininity, intimacy, seduction, and beauty stereotypes. Rooted in ceramic sculpture, her work involves installation, drawing, and sound. Anderson shows her work nationally and participated in several international residencies. She lives and works in Chicago and teaches at Columbia College. Visit nikkireneeanderson.com for more information.

FACULTY EXHIBITION November 19–December 6

Harper College has an active studio art faculty. In addition to teaching, they are dedicated to making and exhibiting their own work. Collectively, they represent a wide range of concept and material approaches. This biennial exhibition provides an important opportunity for art faculty members to share their work with students, colleagues and the community.
