ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Applying to a College of Business

- Business programs at four-year schools vary. Most offer areas of specialization such as accounting, finance, information systems, marketing, and management.
- Admissions to most Business programs is competitive.
- There are usually admission requirements to business programs in addition to the college or university itself. Individual schools vary as to these admission requirements.

AACSB Accreditation

The AACSB Accreditation evaluates a business school's mission, operations, faculty qualifications and contributions, programs, and other critical areas. AACSB accreditation ensures students that the business school is providing a top-quality education. It also ensures employers that AACSB-accredited business school graduates are ready to perform on day one. Additionally, AACSB accreditation provides many benefits to the faculty and staff at its accredited schools by attracting higher quality students, providing greater research opportunities, and allowing for global recognition.

AACSB Membership is not the same as AACSB Accreditation. Not all Business programs have AACSB Accreditation.

*Foundation Courses that are also Core Courses. Core Courses are requirements that are common to all College of Business and Management major programs.

Although ACC 213 is not a direct equivalent to NEIU's BLAW 285, NEIU will accept ACC 213 for the BLAW 285.

COURSES

- ACC 203 at Harper is equivalent to ACTG 301 at Northeastern if a proficiency exam is passed.
- Statistics must be taken at Northeastern

The maximum number of transfer credits that can be applied toward a College of Business and Management major program is 24 (8 courses), and the maximum number of transfer credits that can be applied toward a College of Business and Management minor is 9 (3 courses). Transfer students who major in the College of Business and Management must take a minimum of 10 business courses at Northeastern.

The College of Business and Management <http://www.neiu.edu/academics/college-of-business-and-management> generally accepts up to 24 transfer credits for Foundation Core and Major equivalent courses so long as -

The transferred course is at the same or higher level as its Northeastern equivalent.

- A college-level macroeconomics course will be accepted as the equivalent of ECON 215 (a Core course), because ECON 215 is a lower division (freshman/sophomore) course at Northeastern.

- An introductory marketing course taken at a community college is not automatically accepted as the equivalent of MKTG 350 (a Core course), because MKTG 350 is an upper-division (junior/senior) course at Northeastern.
- An introductory marketing course taken at a four-year university will generally be accepted as equivalent to MKTG 350 if it is also an upper-division course at the school where it was taken (for example, MKT 230 at Illinois State University).
- For some of its upper-division courses, the College offers Proficiency Exams that allow recognition of equivalent lower-division course work. If you've taken a lower-division course in Principles of Finance, Principles of Management, Principles of Marketing, Cost Accounting, Intermediate Financial Accounting I, Intermediate Financial Accounting II, Federal Income Tax (Individual), or Auditing, you may be able to earn a waiver (but not upper-division credit) for that course by passing its Proficiency Exam. Contact the Program Advisement Office for more information about Proficiency Exams: 773-442-6111.

The credits for transferred business courses are six or fewer years old.

- In general, credit for a business course that you took more than six years ago cannot be applied toward the College's Foundation, Core, or Major requirements. Exceptions to this policy can be granted on the basis of work or related academic experience. The course that you took ten years ago in Introductory Financial Accounting, for example, will not meet the College's ACTG 201 requirement - unless of course you're employed as a full-time accountant!

You earned a grade of C or better for the transferred course.

- The College does not grant credit or other recognition for grades lower than C for courses taken on a pass-fail basis, nor for incompletes.

ADMISSION

The Gies College of Business admissions committee uses a holistic review process that assesses the entire student record (academic performance, demonstrated analytical and critical thinking skills, leadership ability, work experience and the included essays).

Ultimately, the criteria for admission (grade point average, etc.) will be determined by the pool of applicants.

The Gies College of Business requires a prospective applicant's transfer GPA to be between 3.00 and 4.00 (A=4.00). The average transfer GPA is based on that of the applicant pool; the GPA range for Fall 2018 admitted applicants was 3.60-4.00. Even if you have an excellent academic record, please note that admission to the College of Business is extremely competitive. Not every qualified student is accepted.

The College of Business accepts lower and upper division transfers with 24-50+ semester hours of transferable coursework. Course requirements for admission are included on the following page.

Students who have completed less than 30 semester hours of credit in college prior to application are evaluated primarily on the following criteria: grades in college, courses in college, high school academics, ACT or SAT scores, and essays, with transfer admission preference given to students who would have been admitted as freshmen.

If transfer students have completed or have in progress at the time of application six or more semesters of college coursework or 90+ semester hours of transferable coursework, transfer applicants are subject to review based on available space. Priority is given to students who can complete the Gies College of Business' degree requirements in no more than nine total semesters of college (excluding summer sessions). Second bachelor degree applications are NOT accepted due to space limitations.
