College of Education at Roosevelt University

At its founding in 1945, Eleanor Roosevelt dedicated Roosevelt University to “the enlightenment of the human spirit.” From that point to this day, the College of Education has sought to achieve this goal through the cultivation of democratic learning communities. We invite prospective and practicing teachers, counselors and school leaders to experience democratic learning communities in courses and field experiences leading to certification and degree completion.

The College of Education has a history of serving nontraditional as well as traditional populations. Whether preparing professionals for the urban or suburban classroom, for non-school settings, or for working with older adults, the College of Education demonstrates a continuing commitment to quality and service.

The Colleges

HARPER COLLEGE

Harper College in Palatine, Illinois, a public community college, is an integral part of the Illinois community college system. Established in 1965, Harper serves Palatine, Barrington, Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Wheeling and portions of Cuba and Ela Townships. The college schedules day and evening credit and non-credit classes for both full-time and part-time students. Since 1967, the Harper College transfer program has provided the opportunity for thousands of area students to complete the first two years of study toward their bachelor’s degrees. A strong academic program, and the educational planning support of a knowledgeable counseling staff, help ensure the transfer of credit to senior institutions such as Roosevelt University.
