University Center Partner Insights...

“The Harper College University Center is a place in which Roosevelt University and the other partner schools can meet students where they are and provide access to Bachelor’s completion that they might not otherwise have. The value of higher education is significant in our communities and we are proud to be a part of the Harper College University Center and the greater community along with educating students for the local workforce.”

Erica Poremba

Executive Director of Community Colleges & Academic Relations Roosevelt University

University Center Partner Insights...

“This master’s business degree offering is an exciting new step in DePaul University’s expansion of its academic programs at Harper’s University Center. Our partnership with Harper has been a wonderful opportunity for DePaul to support students in the Palatine area and we look forward to welcoming graduate students seeking to advance their careers”

University Center Partner Insights

“NIU excited to collaborate with Harper College and to serve as an academic partner in the University Center. We value our longstanding relationship with Harper College and have a shared commitment to provide innovative pathways to bachelor degree attainment in a timely and affordable manner. Additionally, this partnership reduces the barriers and challenges that many transfer students face during their journey to earn a bachelor’s degree.”
