Harper Talks

Listen in as Harper alumni share their stories, experiences, and life journeys. Through Harper Talks conversations led by Assistant Professor of Communication Arts Brian Shelton, Alumni are invited to share how education, career successes and failures and human connection have impacted them along the way.

Harper Talks is a co-production of WHCM 88.3 Harper Student Radio and the Harper Alumni Relations. WHCM students assist with editing and production of each episode. Original podcast theme music composed by Harper student Aidan Cashman.

Harper Talks episodes can be found on all podcast streaming services including Spotify, Apple Podcasts and Google, or other platforms and downloaded below. Learn more about WHCM and support radio students.

Harper Talks Show 13 - Genevieve Frey-Moylan - MP3

▶ 0:00 / 24:26

Assistant Professor of Communication Arts Brian Shelton speaks with Genevieve Frey-Moylan, who is a graduate of the Harper Nursing Program and is currently the Director of the Cardiac Care Unit of the Ann and Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, Illinois. Moylan has a Master of Science in Nursing and is both a Registered Nurse and a Certified Pediatric Nurse. Moylan began her journey at Harper College in 2001 and she graduated as the valedictorian of her nursing class in both her undergraduate and graduate degrees. Moylan became a Harper Distinguished Alumni in 2016 recognized for her excellence and important role in the field of nursing as well as an inspiration for students, staff, and faculty at Harper College. Join Moylan and Shelton for an inspirational conversation about her incredible accomplishments and perseverance through adversity. Download Episode 13 Transcript.
