Introduction

William Rainey Harper College is a two-year public community college founded in 1965 and officially opened classes the fall of 1967. The College offers both the associate in arts and associate in science degrees as well as an associate in applied science degree in 60 career areas. In addition, there are more than 15 one-year certificate programs which prepare men and women of all ages for immediate employment. There are numerous other programs and services such as continuing education, the CAD and Manufacturing Center, business management seminars, cultural affairs, women's program, adult educational development, support services for disabled students, and community counseling services.

The spirit of Harper College is reflected in its name. William Rainey Harper was a scholar, teacher, writer and administrator who devoted his life to the pursuit of excellence in education. As the first president of the University of Chicago, Dr. Harper initiated programs to bring education into the community for those who could not become resident students at a university. This concept was the basis for the establishment of the community college system in the United States and the eventual founding of William Rainey Harper College.

In 1967, Harper College opened with an enrollment of about 1,700 students. Today the College's enrollment stands at approximately 28,000 students of all ages participating in degree credit, continuing education, and extension courses at the Harper campus or at other locations throughout the district.

Harper College makes available degree credit and credit-free offerings at many off-campus locations, including high schools, hospitals and public libraries.

The College has enrolled more than 335,000 students dating back to 1967 when the first classes were held. Many more area residents have come to the campus to attend forums, concerts, and cultural and athletic events.

For the many residents in the College community, Harper provides the opportunity for completing the first two years of a bachelor's degree, developing a career, learning new skills, retooling for career advancement or change, enriching the quality of one's life, or simply enjoying the discovery of new knowledge. In meeting the varied and changing educational needs of the community, Harper College continues to be a dynamic institution, a community college in the truest sense of the term.

College System

Illinois Community Colleges*

The System

Although the first public junior college in Illinois was established in Joliet in 1901, the Illinois Public Junior College Act was not passed until 1965. The Act was an outgrowth of the 1964 Master Plan published by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. This legislation, with subsequent amendments, is the basis for the present system of public community college districts in Illinois.

There are currently 39 public community college districts comprised of 50 colleges and five branches. Of those 39 districts, 37 have locally elected boards of trustees, one (Chicago) has a locally appointed board of trustees, and one (East St. Louis) has a local board of trustees appointed by the Governor. Thirty-six of the districts have a single college. Three districts are multi-college, with Chicago having nine colleges, Illinois Eastern having four colleges, and Black Hawk having two colleges. With the exception of State Community College of East St. Louis, each district has tax levy authority to provide local support for district operations.

The Mission and Scope

Community colleges have excellence as their principle focus in satisfying the educational needs of the individuals and communities they serve.

Focusing on individual needs requires extensive student and instructional support services designed to analyze individual levels of educational attainment and then to respond with appropriate counseling, placement, and other types of special instructional assistance.

Focusing on community needs requires extensive cooperation with community agencies, organizations, businesses, industries, and educational institutions to identify the needs and address them in a manner which is both educationally and economically sound.

Once educational needs are identified, community colleges provide a broad range of educational programs and services to address them.

Accordingly, the following community college missions, together with their respective scopes which further delineate such missions, are identified.

- Provide Liberal Arts and Sciences Programs: Such programs shall be provided either to prepare students for transfer to four-year colleges and universities or to meet the personal educational goals of individuals throughout their lifetimes.
- Provide Occupational Programs: Such programs shall be vocational, technical, and semi-technical in nature and shall be for the purpose of providing job training, retraining, and/or upgrading of skills to meet both current and emerging local, regional, and state manpower needs.
- Provide Preparatory, Developmental, and Remedial Programs: Such programs shall include adult basic education, General Educational Development (GED), English as a Second Language, and any other instruction designed to prepare students for successful experiences in postsecondary education.
- Provide Public Service Programs: Such programs shall include community education activities of an instructional nature such as non-credit adult continuing education and hobby/leisure time activities and community service activities which may include workshops, seminars, forums, and enrichment activities.

The Illinois Community College Board

The Illinois Community College Board consists of nine members appointed by the Governor and one student member selected by the recognized Student Advisory Committee. Board members are appointed at large for six-year terms. The Chairman of the Board is selected by the Governor. The statutory responsibilities of the Board are planning and coordinating the programs and activities of the public community colleges. All colleges are governed by local boards of trustees.

Campus Buildings

Capital funds for the College buildings were provided through a combination of General Assembly appropriations and local construction bond issues approved by the district voters in April of 1966. By 1969, 45 percent of the construction master plan was completed. Harper College opened its doors to 5,400 students at the Palatine campus in the fall of that year.

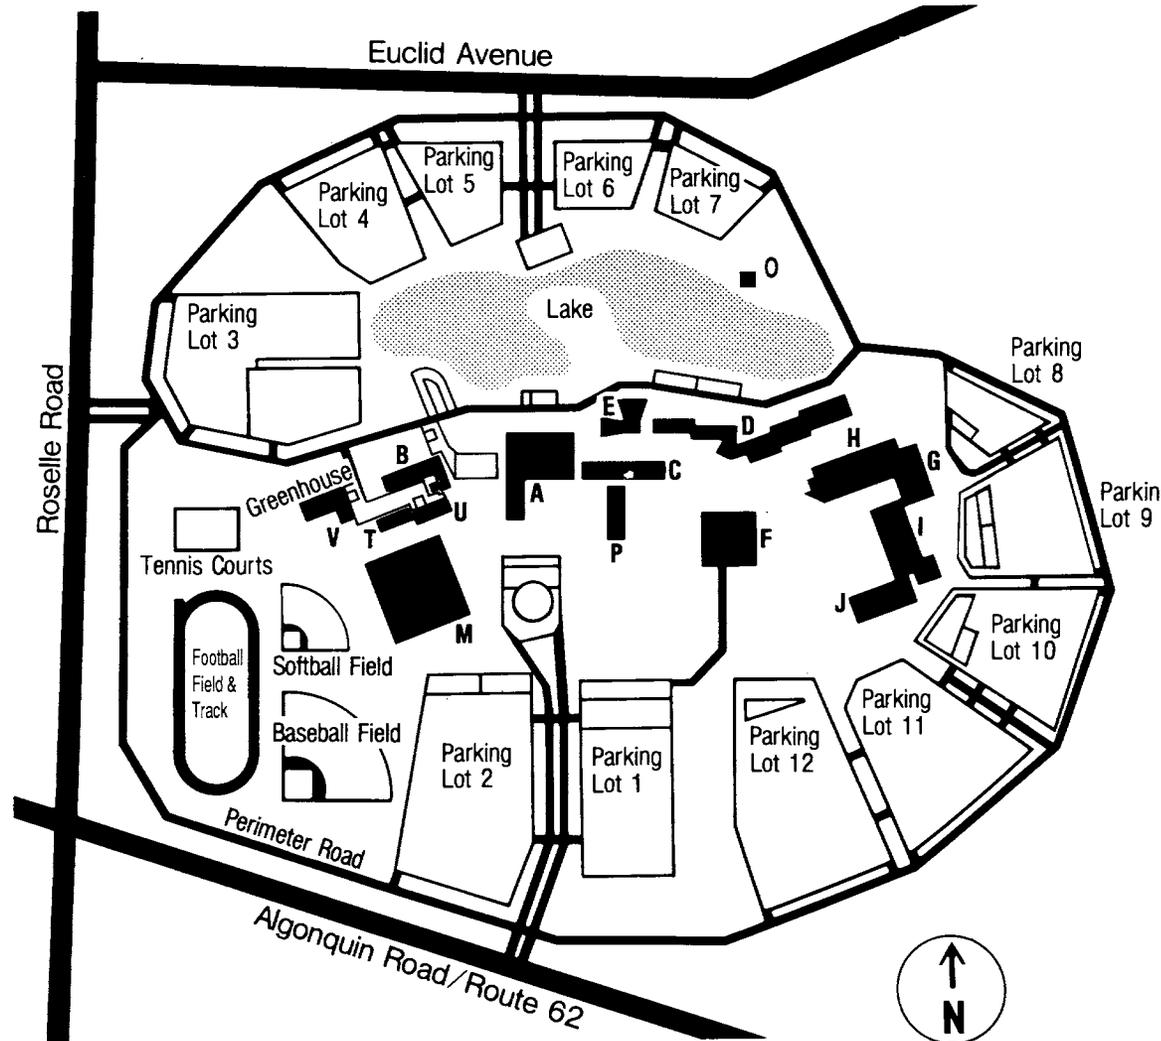

Subsequent buildings were constructed as state appropriations were made available. The physical education center (Building M) was funded through local bond issues approved in a 1975 referendum. The Observatory (Building O) was privately funded.
