PREFACE

In order to prepare for the next millennium, Harper College has a new comprehensive Strategic Long Range Plan (SLRP). An organization needs a clear understanding of its mission, vision, goals and objectives so it can effectively make decisions today in advance of the challenges of tomorrow. This strategic plan is a roadmap created to thoughtfully guide Harper College in the effective use of community and organizational resources.

The document before you is a starting point for defining where we are and where we want to go. It is a response to the challenge of the Harper Board of Trustees and a new president. The College community provided over 150 suggestions since the publication of the first draft. During the next year, as a dynamic and improving plan, it will undergo scrutiny and revision, and will become a platform for action and clarification of institutional issues. Within a revised governance system, the plan will become the nucleus for dialogue and future decision making. The plan will provide for continuity of purpose while the College meets the changing needs of students.

In the current version of this document, the philosophy and mission statements have not been updated. The members of the President’s Council and others on campus feel that these statements require reconsideration. Revising these statements will become the responsibility for the Planning Committee within the revised shared governance system. The vision statement is presented as a suggestion. This too will be examined by the newly formed Planning Committee. The vision statement will be concise, easy to recall and reflective of our desired future.

The document is now entrusted to the Planning Committee to maintain its currency through annual updates. Specifically, the Planning Committee will be recommending the additions, deletions and revisions of task statements contained in the plan. The SLRP will form the basis of annual operations as well as the objectives found in the Annual Plan. When these objectives are attained they will incrementally address the tasks and goals in the SLRP.

Special thanks are extended to Joyce Schoonover and Ronny Serio, from the Office of Strategic Planning and Budgeting, for their help in assembling and producing this document.

It has been a pleasure to be part of developing this initial plan. I believe it is a dynamic document that leads us successfully into the future.

PART I

PLANNING AT
WILLIAM RAINNEY HARPER COLLEGE
INTRODUCTION

By a process of strategic long range planning, an institution defines its philosophy, mission, vision, goals and tasks. A Strategic Long Range Plan (SLRP) is the outcome of this process. Written for the College community, the SLRP serves as a roadmap to guide the delivery of programs and services in the context of community and organizational resources. With the approval of the Board of Trustees, this plan is set for implementation over the next three years. Therefore, the purpose of this document is to communicate to the Harper community a starting point for comprehensive long range planning.

This document consists of six parts.

The first section identifies the planning context, history and process.

The second section presents statements of belief (philosophy), purpose (mission) and direction (vision). Once established they should form guiding principles over a number of planning cycles.

Section three of the document arises from internal and external assessments and consists of a reporting of the College’s strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats. Known as the SWOT (strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats), these statements list the external and internal forces that must be acknowledged before we can determine specific goals and tasks. Threats, for example, are factors that, if not addressed, could seriously hinder the accomplishment of our goals. For example, “Revenue stream severely restricted by Local Tax Cap.” (T-6) has seriously impacted our budget. Not adjusting to future limitations in this area would seriously hinder the accomplishment of our goals. These factors need to be reexamined annually.

The fourth section identifies the institutional priorities for the next year. These major items are selected from the goals and tasks listed in the document. They are reported annually to the Illinois Community College Board along with a report of progress achieved against the previous years priorities.

The fifth section identifies the goals and tasks by administrative area. It should be emphasized that goals and tasks are College-wide and may be addressed by any area of the College. Goals are broad statements of expected outcomes that may and likely will continue over more than one planning period (3 years).

The last section of this document is a statement of the planning policy of the College and a summary of the “Report of a Visit” by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools in September, 1997.

In summary, using a metaphor of a sailing ship, the planning process prepares the plan (map) based on internal and external needs (sails), and guided by our educational values (compass) provides the means for the College to gain speed toward its destination—quality teaching and active learning. It catches the winds of change and currents of educational needs and opportunities. Without the sail and map, the ship has a tendency to drift. Planning helps faculty, staff and administration to work together to direct the ship to move forward as a unit with greater speed and joint purpose.

PLANNING AT HARPER COLLEGE

Over the last eight years, the College has been guided by a document known as “Our Preferred Future.” Components of this statement allowed the College to address a number of important technological, social and educational challenges. Planning efforts became disjointed and portions of the College began to make plans independent from one another. The requirements of emerging technology, space deficiencies, drifting enrollment, turnover in faculty and changing relationships with the corporate community have forced the College to examine its programs, services and methods of operating. As indicated by the North Central Association self study and report, these changes needed to be addressed by a more effective integration of planning with budgeting and operations.

History of the Plan

There has been a call for the integration of a planning process and a plan that would give the College a look at the direction, progress and needs of the institution. In the Fall of 1997, while recognizing a long history of planning at the College, the Board of Trustees approved a policy on planning that asked for the establishment comprehensive strategic plan for Board approval. This need was supported by the institutional self study and the NCA evaluation team report. Both identified the need for integration of all levels of planning and better communication to the College community of institutional goals and their accomplishment.

In February 1998, a new president was hired with a mandate to establish a comprehensive long range plan for the College. Aware that a number of elements of a comprehensive plan were already in place (e.g. institutional priorities, area goals, divisional plans, unit plans, a technology plan and space study), President Breuder charged the President’s Council to prepare a draft of a comprehensive strategic long range plan for 1998-001.
The plan was to contain: (1) statements of philosophy, mission and vision, (2) a determination of strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats, (3) one year institutional priorities and (4) area goals and tasks to be covered in three years. The Dean of Strategic Planning coordinated the assembly of current planning documents, reports and community studies. The President’s Council then drafted this document. In order to have a plan for 1998-99 by June 30, it was necessary for the President’s Council to publish a first version for College community review.
Responses to the Document

The attached document has been reviewed by the campus community. Over 150 suggestions from 30 individuals were made to this document. The President’s Council thoughtfully reviewed each response and incorporated, to some degree, 86% of the items into the current version.

A Dynamic Plan

After the initial plan is approved by the Board of Trustees, the process will be placed with the Planning Committee within the revised shared governance system. The Planning Committee will be assigned the responsibility for updating and revising the plan. This group will be responsible for the content of the plan and for providing guidance to the institutional planning process.

The Planning Committee will be responsible for receiving, adding, modifying and deleting recommendations for goal and task statements in the plan. After being advanced through the shared governance system, these changes will ultimately be approved annually by the Board of Trustees.

Use of the Plan

Strategic planning will be connected to our budget and on-going annual operations of the College. Financial management, facilities, curriculum, educational delivery methods and other key operations will reference the SLRP. The SLRP goals and tasks will be the basis for developing the Annual Plan. Selected managers will develop one year objectives and strategies tied to the SLRP. These objectives will be reviewed periodically and will be assessed in the annual administrative evaluation process. The formation of the SLRP linked to program review and unit planning will enable the identification of future budget requirements and priorities.

THE PLANNING PROCESS

Overall steward of the planning process is the Dean of Strategic Planning who is responsible for the timeline, integration of the components, documentation of progress and key reports of progress to internal groups and the Board of Trustees.

The annual planning cycle contains eight phases (see chart that follows):

Phase I - Environmental Scanning

The Office of Research will be responsible for coordinating activities resulting in an internal audit and external assessment of the College’s environment. An assessment of the demographics, needs assessments, community input and other studies will be conducted. One of the primary tools of this phase will be the review and update of the Institutional Source Book. Reports of the audits will go to the appropriate governance committee. From this assessment will come primary issues that need to be addressed by the College during the next planning period.

During this phase the institutional Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats (SWOT) will be updated. The results of the SWOT update will serve as a context for the revision of the Goals and Tasks inherent in the Strategic Long Range Plan (SLRP).

The final portion of this phase will be the establishment of the institutional priorities as determined by President’s Council for the coming year. These are the major targets that must be addressed. The priorities come from the assessment of accomplishments from the previous year Annual Plan and from new challenges emerging from the internal audit and external assessment.

Phase II - Review Of Foundational Statements

Periodically, the statements pertaining to philosophy, mission, vision and goals will be reassessed. If necessary they will be adjusted to reflect new conditions and/or changing needs in the environment. This review will ensure that our fundamental beliefs, purposes, vision and agenda clearly delineate where the College is going.

Phase III - Goals And Task Development

College goals and tasks, arranged by administrative areas, will cover three years (July 1998-June 2001). Every year the goals and tasks will be reviewed and updated. Tasks, specifying the specific focus of the goals, will be assigned to various committees of College Council or units of the College. These tasks will serve as the basis for prioritized objectives detailed in the Annual Plan.

Goals and tasks are organized under the major functional areas of the College: Academic Affairs, Administrative Services, Student Affairs, Technology and Information Systems and Institutional Advancement. Even though these areas parallel the administrative sectors of the College, the goals and tasks are College-wide and may be referenced in the Annual Plan by any unit of the College.

Phase IV - Annual Plan Development

The Annual Plan includes the objectives of each vice president and other members of the President’s Council. Other staff will use the Annual Plan as a reference for the preparation of their plan. The Annual Plan will be sent to the Board of Trustees for information prior to the beginning of each academic year.
Phase V - Master Planning Grid

A master timeline of the key tasks and related subordinate plans (Technology Plan, etc.) will be assembled within a three year schedule. A database of information will be created linking objectives, strategies, goals and tasks, SWOT and institutional priorities.

Phase VI - Annual Performance

Within the various administrative areas of the College, all participating staff members will report their performance in accomplishing their annual plan and thereby contribute to the implementation of the SLRP.

Phase VII - Reporting Of Progress

Three vehicles will be used to report on planning progress. The Cumulative Strategic Long Range Plan will include the philosophy, mission, goals and tasks of the College as well as the annual updates over a five-year period. An Annual Plan Performance Report will include the progress in accomplishing annual objectives as stated in the Annual Plan. These first two vehicles will be presented to the Board of Trustees. The third vehicle is the Annual Report from the College Council which will include action pertaining to planning.

Phase VIII - Evaluation Of SLRP Process

The Strategic Long Range Plan development process will be evaluated annually and, when appropriate, adjusted.
PART II

PHILOSOPHY, MISSION AND VISION STATEMENTS
PHILOSOPHY STATEMENT

To provide an outstanding program of higher education for the community it serves is the guiding philosophy of William Rainey Harper College.

Created by a community responsive to contemporary insistence on more education for more of its citizens, the College is determined to meet the educational and career requirements of each student and thus serve the community at large.

The demands of the community are clear. In addition to the specific need for two years of high-quality, transferable college credit, the College recognizes the more general, but no less important, requirement of educating all of its students for a meaningful role in a free and fluid society.

Basic to responsible participation in society is the student’s contribution in voting more intelligently, producing more efficiently through the acquisition of a salable skill, and adapting more readily to a complex society. In view of the realities of the complexity of a dynamic society and the knowledge explosion, the student must not only learn what is known but also how to acquire knowledge not yet extant.

With a commitment to the dignity and significance of each student, the College endeavors to bring the student to a realization of what place he or she can make for himself or herself in today’s world and to provide the necessary training for his or her social and personal goals. Report of a Visit by the evaluation team of North Central Association of Colleges and Schools
September 22-24, 1997

Advice and Suggestions:

1. Specific academic program contact information is not available in the Catalog. Program information, offices and names are essential contact points for prospective students. It is suggested that the College review its information database and write the names and telephone numbers for the specific program information listed on pages 66-74. Career Programs (pages 66-115) and Certificate Programs (pages 118-149) should also list contact names, telephone numbers, and addresses. [NCA p. 41]

2. The divisional structure should be listed at the beginning of the College catalog. [NCA p. 41]

3. Consideration should be given to the appointment of liaison librarians to the instructional departments for the purpose of enhancing collection development and disposal, and other related curriculum matters. [NCA p. 41]

4. The College should continue to diversify its student body, faculty, staff and administration. [NCA p. 42]

5. The College should continue to monitor the quality of instructional programs as the rate of part-time instructors increases. [NCA p. 42]

6. The College should clean the entryways and pathways to buildings to remove debris to make entrances and pathways more attractive. [NCA p. 42]

7. The College should review its signage at the three entry points (Algonquin Road, Roselle Road, and Euclid Avenue) and guide traffic with signs to route students to the important functions of the College. [NCA p. 42]

8. Enrollment projections should be examined carefully and verified to insure there is a need for space for future instructional needs. [NCA p. 42]

9. An electronic marquee should be considered to provide information at the Northeast Center to enhance the presence of the College in the community. [NCA p. 42]

10. The institution should continue to monitor very closely the completion of the Regent system according to the original plan. [NCA p. 42]
11. The shared-decision model should be graphically drawn and clear communication flows be prepared to insure the College community understands the flow of information. [NCA p. 42]

12. The College should explore ways to expand the use of the Wellness Program by students and continue to offer seminars on substance abuse and the hazards of tobacco. [NCA p. 42]

13. The College should determine if the five-hour child care limit in the Child Learning Center impairs access of students of the College and prevents potential employees from applying for positions. [NCA p. 42]

14. The College should explore those sports available in high school for women and study the feasibility of beginning new programs for women. [NCA p. 42]

15. The College should increase the font size and choose colors which are more legible for the student handbook. [NCA p. 42]

16. The College should review its multicultural offerings and initiate the feasibility of developing lower division courses dealing with the culture and history of minorities and women studies. [NCA p. 42]

17. The College will examine and report on the Assessment of Student Academic Achievement of its students by May 1, 1999. [NCA p. 43]

Additional Concerns and suggestions in the body of the Report of a Visit:

18. There is lacking a clear understanding and delineation of lines of authority, communication and decision-making within the College. [NCA p. 6]

19. The institution needs to modernize many of its labor-intensive manual systems to improve effectiveness. [NCA p. 7]

20. The faculty record review did find some full-time and part-time faculty files without official transcripts which could not be satisfactorily explained by staff. This is a serious omission and should be addressed by the appropriate administrative personnel. [NCA p. 8]

21. While the College has made progress in diversifying its human resources, it is apparent that there is a need to accelerate this effort. [NCA p. 9]

22. It is suggested that the College explore the cleaning of entryways to remove the debris to make the entrances more attractive. [NCA p. 10]
23. It is suggested the College review signage at the three entry points (Algonquin Road, Roselle Road, and Euclid Avenue) and guide traffic with signs to route vehicles to the important functions of the College (Admissions Office, College Center, Learning Resources Center) and other heavily used buildings and/or functions. [NCA p. 10]

24. The electronics laboratory is pedagogically unsound. There are simultaneous classes being held and it is distracting to both the instructor and the students due to the lack of good acoustics. [NCA p. 11]

25. It is suggested that the College undertake the remodeling of the entrance to the facility (NEC) and prominently display the name of the College on the building as a way of informing the public of the existence of the College. The facility should also be used by the main campus to perform student service functions and other services as well since there is technology available to communicate with the main campus. [NCA p. 11]

26. The projected growth of the College and the enrollment projections need to be examined carefully and verified to insure space is needed for future instructional needs. [NCA p. 12]

27. It is suggested that the communication flow continue to be clearly delineated with specific timelines, tasks to be accomplished, and responsible party for the accomplishments of those tasks to insure the implementation of the Technology Plan on schedule. [NCA p. 13]

28. Instructional programs which use technology should continue to be improved, especially distance-education systems of delivery. [NCA p. 14]

29. Given the very sound financial position of the College, the recent actions by the Board of Trustees to raise tuition at the institution four dollars each year for the next four years appears very questionable in light of the historical mission of the community college of realizing the dreams of students who are often first generation college students. The tuition increases are hard to justify in terms of financial need in the short term and may result in a declining enrollment. In addition, these appear to contradict the Board’s tuition philosophy which defines the student tuition “target” to be 20% of the budget. [NCA p. 16]

30. The recent actions by the Board to negotiate the contract with the faculty directly raises grave concerns... The Board of Trustees is inappropriately using its powers and undermining the specific role of the administration... there should be concern that steps be taken to prevent it (the Board’s involvement in negotiating a collective bargaining agreement with faculty) from happening again. [NCA p. 16]

31. As the College implements its Assessment Plan beyond the course level, systematic discussions about developmental course outcomes as they relate to the entry-level competencies expected by English and mathematics faculty teaching the degree-requirement courses need to occur. [NCA p. 20]

32. The College must seek to embed the concepts of the center (One Stop Career Center) into the regular programs at the institution in order that this vision be sustained... there is a concern of what might happen to the center if the current funding source is depleted or eliminated. [NCA p. 24]

33. It is difficult to determine curricular coherence beyond the course level (in career programs). Also problematic is the lack of a feedback loop to identify how the results of student assessment guides changes in curriculum and instruction to improve student learning. While it appears that the College is moving toward summary student assessment in career programs, significant work remains to be done. [NCA p. 26]

34. As the definition of technical competence changes frequently, a more systematic review of curriculum content, followed by the identification or revision of program outcomes and the assessment of those outcomes would help the College to maintain technical currency in the curriculum and to determine the extent to which students in both certificate and degree programs are achieving technical competence. [NCA p. 26]

35. The College may wish to consider, however, more external curricular review, particularly for certificate programs within associate degree programs, and to move expeditiously toward student assessment at the program level. [NCA p. 26]

36. Much work in the assessment of student learning remains to be completed; the visiting team recommends that the College submit a report to the NCA to document progress toward full implementation. [NCA p. 27]

37. Services to students would improve even more if offices providing related enrollment and information services could be located adjacent to each other. Space reallocation would alleviate problems of noise, crowding and lack of privacy experienced by students and staff in the Office of Student Financial Assistance. [NCA p. 28]

38. As the demographics of the student body change, Admissions Outreach staff, financial assistance staff, and writers of College publications will need to explore ways of providing greater access to information about financial aid to current and prospective students. [NCA p. 28]

39. The Office of Student Financial Assistance staff must improve the processes and procedures to insure that they comply with requirements for Federal recertification. [NCA p. 28]

40. It is strongly suggested that the College determine if the (five hour child care) limit impairs access of students to the College and prevents potential employees from applying for positions. Employees should be included in the survey to determine the level of hardship experienced due to the care limit. [NCA p. 30]

41. It is suggested that the College explore those sports available in high school for women and study the feasibility of beginning new programs for women. [NCA p. 30]

42. It is suggested that the College examine its rule of requiring 10 students to start a club. [NCA p. 31]

43. Recruitment and retention efforts may be greatly enhanced with a more diversified College community and the creation of curriculum dealing with women and minorities. The institution needs to move now to diversify its faculty, staff, and administration. It is recommended that the College continue to diversify its faculty, management and staff. The College should explore curriculum which deals with the culture and history of minorities and women’s studies. It is recommended that the College explore ways of creating classes in the culture and history of minorities and women. [NCA p. 32]

44. It is recommended that the College explore ways to start recruitment by the senior year. It is recommended that the College explore ways to start recruitment in the 11th grade or earlier, especially in the minority high schools where there has not been a history of college attendance. [NCA p. 33]

45. The visiting team suggests that the College continue to explore a One-Stop Career Center at the (main) campus and continue studying the Long Range Plan analysis for all Student Affairs in one location. [NCA p. 33]

46. While the use of computers for assessment is to be commended, the College needs to be vigilant in helping those students who are not familiar with the technology, especially minority students. [NCA p. 34]

47. There is no systematic acquisition and replacement plan in place for non-computer related equipment. [NCA p. 36]

48. The process suggested by this schematic (linking planning with budgeting) needs to be actively incorporated into the planning and budgeting programs and shared throughout the College. [NCA p.37]

49. Some College officials with whom the team spoke believe that accurate reporting (of Title VI financial aid activity) continues to be a problem at the College. The College may therefore wish to review the reporting process to insure future compliance. [NCA p. 38]
50. In the areas of nondiscrimination and affirmative action... the College might consider further strategies which would allow them to mirror at least the 18% minority population in the district. [NCA p. 39]

51. The Catalog fails to include the name, address, and telephone number of the North Central Association, a requirement of NCA reflecting compliance with the Federal Higher Education Reauthorization Act. [NCA p. 39]

Concerns:

52. The existence of multiple organizational structures at the institution has led to some internal confusion as to lines of authority, communication, decision making, and leadership. [NCA p. 40]
