Executive Summary

This report presents the results of the Transfer Graduate Survey of 2004 Harper College graduates of transfer programs.

In most cases, the results were positive. A majority of 2004 graduates (79.0%) reported that their main objective in attending Harper was to take coursework for transfer to another college. The great majority (95.8%) indicated that they were successful in reaching their educational objectives. Nearly three-quarters (74.1%) reported being enrolled in another college or university at least part-time, and 71.8% reported majoring in a program similar or related to their field of study at Harper. Among the enrolled graduates, the most frequent transfer destination was Northern Illinois University (20.4%). More than three-quarters (77.6%) of respondents reported being employed at least part-time; 40.2% were employed full-time.

Graduates appeared satisfied with their experiences at Harper. When asked how their Harper education helped them in a variety of areas (e.g., communicating in writing, communicating verbally, understanding scientific concepts, and appreciating diversity), respondents were quite positive: 84.4% to 95.7% of them rated their experiences as “helpful” or “extremely helpful”. Respondents were also satisfied with various facets of the instruction at Harper: when rating factors such as class size, quality of instruction, and course content, more than 90% of respondents gave ratings of “good” or “excellent”. More than 80% of respondents were satisfied with support services at the College (e.g., Financial Aid, Academic Advising, Tutoring, Library, Student Activities).

The great majority (93.4%) rated their preparation at Harper as either “excellent” or “good”. Nearly all (98.6%) said that they would recommend Harper to friends and family and would return to Harper for either educational or personal enrichment courses in the near future (93.8%).

In general, recent graduates of Harper’s transfer programs appear to be pursuing their educational goals, satisfied with their experiences at Harper, and confident that their education at Harper has helped to prepare them for the future.

Introduction

The Harper College Transfer Graduate Survey is conducted the spring after Harper students graduated. The survey was conducted via telephone¹ with Harper alumni who graduated in fiscal year 2004 with transfer degrees (e.g., A.A., A.S., etc.). For the Transfer Graduate Survey, 282 of 663 Harper graduates were contacted and surveyed, for a response rate of 42.5%.

The report is organized into three sections: Executive Summary, Introduction, and Results and Discussion. The Executive Summary highlights results of interest. The Introduction provides an overview of the process, including response rate and the organization of the report. The Results and Discussion Section provides tabular results of responses from Harper transfer graduates. Appendix A presents a copy of the survey instrument.

For results from graduates of career programs, refer to the Results of 2004 Career Graduate Survey. Results for specific career programs can be found in the Results of 2004 Career Graduate Survey – Program-Level Results.

Results and Discussion

Table 1 presents the demographic characteristics (racial/ethnic group and gender) for all 663 transfer graduates from 2004, as well as the demographic characteristics of the 282 survey respondents. The racial/ethnic and gender groups did not show significant response bias (i.e., one group was not significantly more or less likely to respond to the survey).

The first question of the survey asks respondents for their main objective in attending Harper College. The next two questions ask respondents to report how well they met their goal and how their Harper education helped them. Next, respondents were asked to rate several facets of instruction at Harper, to rate their satisfaction with student services, and to rate the convenience of Harper's campuses. Questions 7 through 13 ask about their current educational experience: if they were currently enrolled, which institution they attended, their major, if their Harper credits transferred, and the degree they planned to earn. Respondents were then asked if they had taken any courses at Harper after completing their degree, how they would rate their Harper education, and their employment status. Questions 18 and 19 ask respondents to report on their recommendation of Harper to others and a possible return to Harper, respectively.

Table 2: Question 1 – Main Objective in Attending Harper

What was your main objective in attending Harper College? (N=281)	Number	Percent^a
Obtain skills needed for entry into new or different job	15	5.3%
Improve skills needed in present job	7	2.5%
Explore courses to decide on a career	22	7.8%

^a Responses of females and males were significantly different ($\chi^2=12.60$, $df=4$, $p<.05$).

The large majority of respondents (79.0%) reported that their main objective in attending Harper was to take coursework for transfer to another college. Very small proportions of respondents selected any of the other response choices. Responses to this question differed by gender: female respondents were more likely than males to indicate they were “exploring courses to decide on a career” (10.2%, compared to 4.4% for males), and less likely than males to indicate they were “taking coursework for transfer to another college” (73.1%, compared to 87.6% for males; $\chi^2=12.60$, $df=4$, $p<.05$).

Table 3: Question 2 – Success in Achieving Objective

To what extent were you successful in achieving your educational objective? (N=281)	Number	Percent^a

Not at all successful	2	0.7%

^a Responses of females and males were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

Nearly all respondents (95.8%) indicated that they were successful or very successful in achieving their educational objective. While both females and males reported being successful in reaching their educational objectives, females were more likely than males to report being “very successful” (75.3%, as compared to 63.2% for males; $\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

^a Responses of females and males were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

^b Responses of minorities and whites were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

^c Responses of females and males were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

^d Responses of minorities and whites were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

^e Responses of minorities and whites were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

^f Responses of females and males were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

^g Responses of females and males were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.75$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

Respondents consistently rated their Harper education as being helpful or extremely helpful in developing their academic abilities. Positive ratings ranged from 84.4% (ability to use computers and technology) to 95.7% (ability to verbally communicate effectively). Looking at ratings of “extremely helpful,” respondents were most positive about ability to appreciate diversity (57.9%) and ability to appreciate other points of view 56.8%), both with over 50% of graduates giving the most positive response.

When rating how their Harper education helped them, there were a number of statistically significant differences by gender and by racial/ethnic group. Females were more likely than males to say that their Harper education was “extremely helpful” in the areas of verbal communication (54.3% vs. 40.4%; $\chi^2=11.53$, $df=3$, $p<.01$), written communication (54.0% vs. 35.1%; $\chi^2=10.08$, $df=3$, $p<.05$), and ability to appreciate other points of view (63.4% vs. 46.9%; $\chi^2=10.69$, $df=3$, $p<.05$). Males, in contrast, appeared more likely to report that their education was “helpful” (but not “extremely helpful”) in terms of their ability to use computers and technology (54.5% vs. 36.8%; $\chi^2=14.28$, $df=4$, $p<.01$).

Minorities were more likely than white students to say that their Harper education was “extremely helpful” in the areas of understanding scientific concepts (50.9% vs. 30.2%; $\chi^2=10.39$, $df=3$, $p<.05$), and explaining and applying the scientific method (47.3% vs. 33.2%; $\chi^2=9.03$, $df=3$, $p<.05$).

Graduates were very positive when asked about several facets of instruction at Harper such as class size, course content, and faculty teaching ability. At least 90% of respondents gave positive ratings (i.e., “excellent” or “good”) to every facet; at least half rated each facet as “excellent”. The facet that received the most positive rating (61.6% of respondents rating as excellent) was faculty availability. Importantly, there were no statistically significant differences by gender or racial/ethnic group in any of the ratings of instruction.

^a Percentages are based on respondents using the service.

^b Among respondents who used the service, responses of minorities and whites were significantly different ($\chi^2=7.87$, $df=3$, $p<.05$).

Graduates reported being generally satisfied with support services at Harper: satisfaction levels ranged from 82.1% for career planning to 97.7% for access for the disabled on campus. Relatively high proportions of graduates (ranging from 48.3% to 68.9%) reported being “very satisfied” with each service. Note that graduates had the option of indicating that they did not use a given service; as would be expected, some services (such as registration and the library) were used by more graduates than others (such as disability services, tutoring, and the career center). There was only one statistically significant difference among demographic groups: minorities were more likely than whites to indicate some level of dissatisfaction with access for disabled on campus (11.2% of minority reported being dissatisfied, as compared to 0% of white respondents; $\chi^2=7.87$, $df=3$, $p<.05$).

Graduates were asked to rate the convenience of the locations for Harper classes. The majority of respondents (68.1%) reported that the main campus was very convenient. Small proportions of graduates reported using other locations; however, respondents generally rated these sites as convenient or very convenient. Web/internet courses were rated only slightly less convenient than courses on the main campus. Respondents indicating “Other” were referring to courses offered at Elk Grove High School, Barrington High School, and telecourses. There were no significant differences in responses by demographic group.

Table 8: Question 7 – Current Educational Status

Which of the following best describes your current educational status? (N=282)	Number	Percent^a
Full-time student	177	62.8%
Part-time student	32	11.3%
Not currently enrolled – plan to enroll at a later date	52	18.4%
Not currently enrolled – no plans to enroll	21	7.4%

^a Responses of females and males were significantly different ($\chi^2=7.95$, $df=3$, $p<.05$).

Nearly three-quarters of the respondents (74.1%) reported being enrolled at least part-time at another institution; the majority (62.8%) were enrolled full-time. An additional 18.4% reported that they had plans to enroll in the future. A small proportion (7.4%) reported not being enrolled, with no plans to enroll in the future. Females and males responded to this question significantly differently: females were less likely than males to report being full-time students (56.9% vs. 71.1%), and more likely to report that they were not currently enrolled but plan to enroll in the future (23.4% vs. 11.4%).

Table 9: Question 8 – Transfer Institution

Elmhurst College	12	5.8%
Illinois State University	12	5.8%

Harper College	22	10.7%
Other ^a	42	20.4%
Eastern Illinois University	6	2.9%
Loyola University	5	2.4%
North Central College	3	1.5%

^a The three most frequently mentioned schools are listed below. Other schools were mentioned by only one or two respondents.

Among the Harper graduates who were currently enrolled, the largest proportion (20.4%) were attending Northern Illinois University. Roosevelt University and Northeastern Illinois University were also relatively common transfer destinations: 11.7% and 10.2% of respondents attended these institutions, respectively. Respondents choosing “other” indicated a range of different institutions. The top three “other” institutions are shown in the table; verbatim responses are included in the Appendix.

Table 10: Question 10 – Current Major

How would you describe your current major? (N=202)	Number	Percent
Same as my Harper major	59	29.2%
Related to my Harper major	86	42.6%
Entirely new area	57	28.2%

When asked about their current major, the largest proportion of respondents (42.6%) indicated that their major was related to, but not identical to, their Harper major. Approximately equal proportions reported that they had the same major or an entirely new field of study (29.2% and 28.2%, respectively). Respondents were also asked to write in their current major or course of study; verbatim responses are shown in the Appendix. There were no statistically significant differences by demographic group.

Table 11: Questions 11 and 12 – Transferring Credits

Question Text	Number	Percent
Did all of your Harper College credits transfer to your current institution? (N=191)
Yes	151	79.1%
No (if NO, continue with question 12)	40	20.9%
What was the main reason why some credits did not transfer? (N=40)
Some credits would transfer as elective only	20	50.0%
Entirely new field of study at transfer institution	2	5.0%
Grades were not high enough to earn transfer credits	1	2.5%
Other	17	42.5%

Most graduates (79.1%) reported that all of their Harper credits transferred to their new institution. Among those graduates who could not transfer all of their credits, the most common reason (50.0%) was that some credits would transfer as elective only. A large minority (42.5%) of those with non-transferring credits indicated “other”; an examination of their written responses shows a range of reasons, but perhaps the most common was that they had too many Harper credits and their transfer institution would only accept a maximum of 60 credits. There were no statistically significant differences by demographic group.

Table 12: Question 13 – Educational Goals

What is the highest degree you plan to earn? (N=251)	Number	Percent
Bachelor’s Degree	108	43.0%
Master’s Degree	121	48.2%
Doctorate Degree	19	7.6%
Professional Degree	3	1.2%

The largest proportion of respondents (48.2%) indicated that they aspired to earn a Master’s degree. A nearly equivalent proportion (43.0%) reported that they aspired to a Bachelor’s degree. Relatively small proportions reported aspiring to doctoral or professional degrees. There were no statistically significant differences by demographic group.

Table 13: Questions 14 and 15 – Additional Coursework at Harper

Have you taken additional courses at Harper since receiving your degree or certificate? (N=279)	Number	Percent
Yes	52	18.6%
No	227	81.4%
What type of courses have you taken? (N=50)
Credit courses	47	94.0%
Continuing Education courses	3	6.0%

Less than one-fifth of respondents (18.6%) reported taking additional courses at Harper after completing their degree or certificate. Although this is a relatively small proportion, it may be notable that some graduates return to Harper even after achieving their primary goal. Of those graduates who have taken additional courses at Harper, the great majority (94.0%) reported taking credit courses. There were no statistically significant differences by demographic group.

Table 14: Question 16 – Preparation at Harper

How would you rate your Harper education in terms of how well it prepared you for continuing your education? (N=274)	Number	Percent
Excellent	174	63.5%
Good	82	29.9%
Average	17	6.2%
Poor	0	0.0%
Very poor	1	0.4%

When asked how well their Harper education prepared them for continuing their education, 93.4% reported that their preparation was “excellent” or “good”. A single respondent (less than one half of one percent of all respondents) reported a negative perception of the preparation they received at Harper. There were no statistically significant differences by demographic group.

Table 15: Question 17 – Employment Status

What is your present employment status? (N=281)	Number	Percent^a
Employed full-time – 30 hours or more per week	113	40.2%
Employed part-time – less than 30 hours per week	105	37.4%
Full-time military service	0	0.0%
Unemployed, seeking employment	21	7.5%
Unemployed, not seeking employment	42	14.9%
Of those unemployed and not seeking employment: (N=41)
Full-time student	32	78.0%
Full-time homemaker	4	9.8%
Health disability	1	2.4%
Family responsibilities	1	2.4%
Other	3	7.3%

^a Responses of minorities and whites were significantly different ($\chi^2=11.51$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

The majority (77.6%) of respondents reported being employed at least part-time. Among those unemployed, two-thirds (42 of 63) reported that they were not seeking employment. Being a full-time student was the most frequently cited reason for not seeking employment (cited by 78% of respondents). Minority graduates and white graduates had significantly different responses to this question: minority graduates were more likely to report that they were unemployed and not seeking employment (28.8% vs. 11.3%; $\chi^2=11.51$, $df=3$, $p<.01$).

Table 16: Questions 18 and 19 – Recommend and Return to Harper

On a one to four scale where one is “definitely no” and four is “definitely yes”, would you recommend Harper College to your friends and family? (N=282)	Number	Percent
Definitely yes	248	87.9%
Yes	30	10.6%
No	2	0.7%
Definitely no	2	0.7%
Would you return to Harper for educational or personal enrichment courses in the near future? (N=278)
Definitely yes	206	74.1%
Yes	55	19.8%
No	11	4.0%
Definitely no	6	2.2%

When asked if they would recommend Harper to friends and family, respondents were overwhelmingly positive: 98.5% said yes or definitely yes. Similarly, when asked if they would return to Harper for credit or continuing education courses in the near future, 93.9% said yes or definitely yes. Note that for these two questions, 87.9% and 74.1%, respectively, gave the most positive answer. Marketing research tells us that the group that responds with the most positive answer to questions like these (called “top-1 box” responses) are the loyal customers who are the most likely to recommend Harper and return as students in the future. Importantly, there were no statistically significant differences by demographic group for either of these questions.

Respondents were also asked to respond to several open-ended questions. Their verbatim responses are presented in the Appendix. Thematic analyses of their responses are presented in tables below.

Summary

Harper's graduates of transfer programs were positive about their experiences at Harper, and about how their education here helped prepare them for further study.

A majority of 2004 graduates (79.0%) reported that their main objective in attending Harper was to take coursework for transfer to another college, and nearly all (95.8%) indicated that they were successful in reaching their educational objectives. Nearly three-quarters (74.1%) reported that they had successfully transferred to another college or university (Northern Illinois University was the most common transfer destination) and were enrolled at least part-time; 71.8% reported majoring in a program similar related to their field of study at Harper. More than three-quarters (77.6%) of respondents reported being employed at least part-time; 40.2% were employed full-time.

Graduates reported being well-satisfied with the instruction and services at Harper. When asked how their Harper education helped them in a variety of areas such as communicating in writing, communicating verbally, understanding scientific concepts, and appreciating diversity, respondents were quite positive: 84.4% to 95.7% of them rated their experiences as "helpful" or "extremely helpful". Respondents were also satisfied with various facets of the instruction at Harper: when rating factors such as class size, quality of instruction, and course content, more than 90% of respondents gave ratings of “good” or “excellent”. More than 80% of respondents were satisfied with support services at the College (e.g., Financial Aid, Academic Advising, Tutoring, Library, Student Activities).

The great majority (93.4%) rated their preparation at Harper as either “excellent” or “good”. Nearly all (98.6%) said that they would recommend Harper to friends and family and would return to Harper for credit or continuing education courses in the future (93.8%).

In their open responses, respondents indicated that the quality of the faculty, the convenience, and the cost were among the things that they liked best about Harper. Common suggestions for how the College can improve instruction were to become a 4-year school, to improve the availability of classes, and to improve the quality of faculty. Respondents’ suggestions for improving Harper’s services included improving specific services, improving parking, and providing more information on the services that are available. Graduates very frequently replied that no changes were needed either to instruction or to services.

In summary, recent graduates of Harper’s transfer programs appear to be pursuing their educational goals, satisfied with their experiences at Harper, and confident that their education at Harper has helped to prepare them for the future. They appear to be loyal and satisfied students who will recommend Harper to others and consider returning here themselves.

- 26 Continue to reach out to the older people for continuing education.
- 28 Four year school would be nice.
- 34 Get more full time teachers.
- 35 Good already, no improvement needed.
- 37 Parking is horrendous. There is not enough spaces, it should be first come, first served and faculty should have underground parking.
- 45 Make the same classes scheduled for all different times.
- 52 Counselors need to stop advising students to take courses they really don't need to take.
- 56 Better information given to students so they can make better decisions.
- 64 Does fine.
- 66 Provide more counselors.
- 73 Notify students on which courses do not transfer to a four year school.
- 78 Access to advisors.
- 81 Make the students more aware of the services that are offered.
- 89 Don't know.
- 92 More maintenance work.
- 94 Counseling.
- 103 Advisors need more experience.
- 107 More parking.
- 116 Better parking, more. Transportation in cold weather from parking lots.
- 121 Do not have any complaints.
- 125 Everything was very good.
- 135 Pleased with everything.
- 136 Want a four year school.
- 137 Good, no problem.
- 144 Counseling service needs more attentive people working there.
- 151 Good service.
- 163 Services were all OK.
- 164 Don't fix what is not broken.
- 165 Offer courses at different times during the day.
- 180 Nothing.

181 Have more of the main classes on evenings and weekends.

182 Make it a four year college.

186 Everything is fine.

188 There should be more academic counselors.

190 Have more people available so there isn't a long wait to talk to counselors or advisors.

191 Counselors could be more knowledgeable.

199 Everything's good.

204 Class that helps you to transfer or continue your education.

206 Have more counselors since there are a lot of students.

211 Everything's fine.

212 Parking was a hassle.

214 Don't know, you guys have great services.

229 Better cafeteria.

230 Lower the cost of course credits.

231 Everything's fine.

234 Parking.

240 The parking lot is too crazy and too packed.

242 More windows to pay for tuition.

251 Send more email to inform people about the school.

256 More parking.

258 Very good, can't offer any suggestions.

262 Let people know more about the services.

267 Better parking.

275 The full-time faculty was the best, so have the outside teachers be full-time cause they are the 278 Have early counseling, consistent counseling and online counseling. I want to be able to get a "taste of a course" before I register for it - not audit it but be able to sit in on one or two classes to see if I'm interested. Also, they need to inform students of the Honors Program right away. I was there three years before I knew and that it pays for partial tuition at a four year college. Also, bring awareness to other programs - program board, senate that give students tuition reimbursement.

279 Better parking.

282 Readily available - good.

291 Satisfied.

292 Academic advising needs to be more knowledgeable.

293 Allocation of funds.

301 Great already.

303 More open to student's comments.

304 Lower the tuition costs.

305 Financial aid counselors could be better informed about programs.

307 More class availability. My microbiology course is Tue/Thurs mornings but the labs are Mon/Wed afternoons so it doesn't work with my schedule. I wish they would be right after my lectures.

308 No improvement needed.

314 Better academic advising - knowing what courses transfer to what schools.

318 No need to.

320 Inform incoming students about availability of services better. Advertise them.

322 Less student workers and more employees who know more information to answer my questions.

332 Have four year degrees.

339 Faster with the grading procedures and have evaluations with any problems in grading.

345 It's fine.

358 Four year program.

361 Service.

365 Transcripts - office did not send with AP scores - inefficient.

368 More parking.

373 Satisfied.

374 Parking.

375 Better parking.

384 The academic advising could be more helpful with providing information about careers and different majors to the students.

389 More social clubs.

394 Keep expanding.

395 The counseling center wasn't organized.

397 Have an answering machine after hours at the offices.

409 Change the cafeteria. No one goes, it's too expensive. The President and the administration should be more closely linked to the students. The administration doesn't care about the students. The parking sucks and the tuition keeps getting raised.

411 Fine.

412 I didn't have any problems.

422 More night classes.

439 More tutoring offered.

457 More advisors, no time for students.

465 More services available in the evenings, most of them close at certain times.

467 Open weekends and nights.

469 Don't know.

472 Have more informational pamphlets advertising the services that are available.

488 Don't know.

492 Have the library open longer.

494 Career counseling could be nicer. It is very hard to get an appointment.

495 More info on availability of services.

509 I've been very satisfied with everything.

513 They should have more activities for students who attend at night, not just the students in the day time.

514 I don't know.

515 Taking surveys from students is good. About the staff and services.

516 Pamphlets on availability of services.

518 No problems.

519 Make it a four year school.

- 534 Good tutoring program.
- 539 No, OK.
- 549 Better parking.
- 554 Inform the students more about the available services and their operating times.
- 559 Offer a Bachelor's in Nursing Science.
- 568 Have better parking.
- 570 Make the parking closer.
- 572 Make Harper a four year college.
- 576 Advertise them more so that the students are aware that they are available.
- 580 Parking.
- 602 Transfer.
