WHCM: Where's the grief?

"You charge (for advertising) in a wimpy publica-

That statement came from the mouth of an "announcer" for WHCM "radio" station.

We do not feel that we must justify our existance to anyone-let alone, WHCM. The Harbinger is a weekly newspaper with the same responsibilities and lia-bilities as a daily newspaper such as the Daily Herald or the Chicago Tribune.

The differences lie in the fact that we have a signifi-cantly smaller budget, are essentially volunteers (except for the tuition rebates provided to the edi-tors), are not professionals in the purest sense and are required to be students.

We can be sued, we have to advertise to bring in revenue and we have a press run of 5,000 reaching over 20,000 readers.

The whole concept of a college "radio" station verbally attacking a college newspaper is ludicrous. There is absolutely no reason why anyone at WHCM should hold a grudge against anyone from the Harbinger.

Both staffs are relatively new and the instigator of this malice must have his bases mixed up.

The editor of the Harbinger and WHCM station manager have a relationship of respect and mutual coexistence. There is absolutely no reason this relationship should be threatened.

One pertinent question still remains: why is some-ne at WHCM intent upon a "blood bath" without one at WHCM intent upon a "brood bain" without provocation."

Maybe that individual should climb out of his booth and test the waters.
After all, aren't we both separate aspects of the same free press?
We believe the best place for someone's foot is planted firmly on the ground instead of in his month; especially for someone involved in radio broadcast-ing.

This may appear like pretty gloomy stuff but the tempo and beat are definitely up on the dancefloor.

"Say No" is the best example of this where the beat shifts into hyper space "Say No" would be right at home on the turntables of notable new wave clubs like Berlin, NEO, and Medusa's.

If all things remain the same. Harper college will run out of money by 1985, said Elaine Stoermer, director of college relations. The option to rates the tuition rate is not available to the Harper administration because the tuition rate is already close to one third of the per-capita cost allowed by law. The other two-thirds come from state reimbursements and

The last time a tax rate referendum was proposed. which was defeated, was in 1978 when the California Proposition 13 issue was hot.

The tax rate hasn't changed since 1967 when the college moved to it's present location, but the tuition rate has risen 337.5% from $8 to $27 per semester hour. We believe the time has come for Harper officials to seek other sources of revenue rather than the traditional disping of hands into the pocketbooks of students. In this way, the furtien rate and the tax rate could be put in better balance. As of this date, plans for the referendum are only in the formative stages. We entourage all concerned Parper students to voice their opinoins concerning raising the tax rate.

Bus shelter needed

The 693 RTA (Regional Transportation Authority) bus stops 36 times per day in front of A building at Harper. The bus begins running at 6:59 a.m. and end at 10:01 p.m.

During the peak hours demand is so high a bus will nearly fill up. Because of the popularity of the 693 RTA bus route, we believe this constitutes a consid-eration to construct a shelter for public-transporta-

Harper has provided benches near the bus stop which surfice during the summer, fall and spring seasons of pleasant weather, but when foul weather rolls around, the bus stop only serves as a goal in a sprinting race when the bus rounds the corner into Harper.

The RTA serves many areas throughout the sub-urbs and, when the situation warrants, provides out-side shelter for riders. The shelters are not unattractive and serve to protect riders.

The construction of a shelter at Harper would not lessen the beauty of the campuses' landscape, but rather it would advertise a system of transportation that makes more sense economically.

Harbinger refuses public relation role

As the large influx of mail arrives at the Harbinger each day, occasionally important information may be overlooked.

For weeks, a "press release" from Disabled Stu-dent Services was overlooked. This division provides many important services to aid and assist disabled students such as the note takers for the hearing impaired and persons with learning disabilities.

The individuals who work for this service should be commended for the fine work they've done, but the Harbinger is not a branch of any service or depart-ment on campus and will not assume the role of pro-motion director or provide free advertising.

The "press release" provided the basic rudiments for a story, but was unsuitable for publication in a newspaper. We are thankful for the information, but we reserve the right to edit, investigate or refuse any ndance submitted.

On such short notice and with our limited staff, it is sometimes difficult to assign a reporter to a story that needs prompt attention.

Each service on campus — public safety, financial aids and the counselling center, for example — provides a unique and vital service to the Harper community. Individuals from each service undoubtably hold their organization's functions in the highest

The Harbinger's newspaper functions are to pro The Harbinger's newspaper functions are to pro-vide objective, accurate and informative news to the readers. We will not fill our pages with pamphlet-style free publicity, but what we will do is keep our eyes and ears open for interesting and informative story ideas.

The material Disabled Student Services provided proved to be interesting and informative. To story about the service appears in this issue.

We hope that other services continue their fine work and can occasionally provide us with interest-ing newsworthy informaton, but editorial decisions remain the domain of our editors.

"All the data's there; you might not be able to see it, but it's there," he said.

Students in his class show a high level of interest in every detail of the instruction.

The class typically consists of two parts, the lecture and the actual operation of the computers. Several students commented on the program in between the two class sections.

"We've already got a system (at Power Cutting Inc.)," Lar-son said "We've got a two-dimensional system; that's why I want to learn three-dimensional here at Harper."

Larson said that he read a Washington Post article which indicated that demand for CAD CAM is going to increase 300% in the next five to ten

Where have all the diplomats gone?

The first five weeks of classes passed so quickly that no one noticed the absence of the diplomat in resident program.

The program was postponed in part because coordinator Roy Dube', trade specialist for the U.S. Department, thought the program should be revised and revamped in order to attract a larger audience.

Last semester, under the direction of Thomas J. de Seve, senior international trade specialist for the U.S. Department of Commerce, once a month a dip-lomat or consulate general from a foreign country would spend a day at Harper College.

The typical day began with a meeting with Harper President James McGrath, a catered luncheon, a speaking engagement in front of the Harper commu-nty including local businesmen and concluded with a

Representatives from South Africa, Brazil, Brit-in, Poland, Ireland and Japan have participated in

For the relatively small audience of anywhere from 30 to 100 individuals, the speaking engagements proved to be a highly educational and enlightening

The educational benefits of the program are vast. Dube' said the program helped individuals foster a greater understanding of their fellow man thereby making them "better citizens."

Yet, for the time being, this valuable programhas been placed on the back burner. Dube' agreed that the program was extremely valuable, but, in the meantime, no word about reinstallment has been heard.

We believe it is better to reinstall the program as it was last semester, despite the low attendence, then continue with plans for improvement.

Afterall, a program with such intellectual signifi-cance should not be entirely snuffed out just because the fuel supply is low

Opinion

Inexcusable low by non-voters

At face value it appears from the results of the student senate election that Harper students have little or no concern with the fate of the college.

Seventy-eight out of 19,061 students found time to vote in the September 18 and 19 election which took place in buildings A and J.

Maybe the vast majority of students doesn't have the time or patients to vote.

Maybe the vast majority of students doesn't realize the impact the student senate has in influencing the Harper administration and board of trustees.

Maybe the vast majority of students doesn't mind paying the second highest community college tuition rate in the state.

Maybe the vast majority of students doesn't care whether they're being represented by responsible persons to the administration and the board of trustees.

russees. Maybe this or maybe that.
Student Activities Director Jeanne Pankanin said,
"All we can do is ask questions."
Matthew Scallon, senator-elect from technology, math and physical setence, won in his division by a whopping two votes. His opponent, Gary Marek, received 31 votes.

Todd Burgher, senator-elect from life science and health services, won his division by a landslide. He received 61 votes and ran unopposed.

Gena Parkhurst and Michel F. McCarthy, candi-dates from business and social sciences, cam-paigned vigorously and ended in a tie with 24 votes each.

Cameron Archbold, the most qualified candidate from business and social sciences, lost by four votes.

Results of the Parkhurst McCarthy Tuesday run-off election will be announced later today. If it's some solace tothe losers, the seven remain-ing positions on the student senate will be appointed at a later date.

Whoever loses in the run-off election will most likely be appointed senator later on..

In the student senate, everbody's a winner - even Pankanin said that with this extremely low voter So, the student senators win and the students lose.

By D. Miller and L. Egger Staff writers Harper College faces a possi-ble $ 1.1 million deficit in the budget this year.

Since Harper's tuition is at the maximum legal rate, cit-izens within the district face a possible tax increase, saod Peter Bakas, vice president of administrative services.

The deficit will be covered by the reserve balance fund this year. However, this year's deficit could create a problem with next year's budget.

This year's proposed budget comes to $24,600,000, which is about 100,000 more than last year's budget. This year's expected revenue comes to $23,500,000, accounting for the $1.1 million deficit.

The budget is composed of the education fund, which includes the individual depart-ments, and the building fund, which deals with the general maintenence of the college.

The combination of these funds make up the budget.

Bakas said that 30 percent of the budget comes from tuition, 24 percent from state taxes, 38 percent from local taxes and eight percent from mis-cellaneous sources.

The board of trustees meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the board room in building A to adopt a legal budget and tax levy for 1884. Interested parties are invited to attend and express their viewa.

Dube said the reason the program was placed on the "back burner" was because it needed to be improved.

I would like to say that this is not the first time that I have chanced upon these eye-sores that are scattered around the Harper landscape.

I have been a Harper student for one and a half years and I have watched this abuse of our campus for this entire time.

It seems that quite a few of our not-so-illustrious Harper students are finding it neces-sary to dump their refuse throughout Harper's parking lots and well-groomed lawns.

Is there some compelling urge to scatter trash all around that these people can't over-come? As the Superintendant

International program begins early December

By Bill Keeb Editor in chief The Harper College Interna-tional Forum will replace the diplomat in-residence pro-gram in early December The program sponsored monthly speaking engagements by for-eign diplomats and consuls general last spring

The change in the name evolved in part because of the limitations the previous program set on the selection of speakers, said Ray Dube, trade specialist for the U.S. Department of Commerce, who has an auxillary office in J290c at Harper College.

The proposed program would allow participation by persons involved in international trade—for example, an export specialist from a major U S firm—and would not restrict participation to only diplomats or consuls general

"What this allows us to do is to invite a wider range of peo-ple, including businessmen and diplomats." Dube said.

"The tentative format is we're going to have a luncheon with a mixture of students, faculty and local businessmen. Dube said. "After that, we hope to go over to the television studio then tape an interview with him, and ask, a local businessman to act as moderator."

mericans should vote

Back when America was young and struggling to seperate itself from British authority, many people died because they held dear the motto "No taxation without representation."

The current trend in local, state and U.S. elections has been to ignore that privilege, to abstain from voting and to negate one's influence in choosing the leadership and the destiny of our state and nation.

The facts are: America has a lower voting rate than any other democratic country. And, in the 1980 presidential election, 45 percent of the eligible voters did not vote.

did not vote.

In the Declaration of Independence, one of the basic doctrines of the United States, Jefferson conveys our responsibilities as voters.

All men are "endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness-That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just Powers from the Consent of the Governed."

the Governed....
We the people demonstrate our consent, or the lack of it, by voting for the candidate who best represent our views. At least, that's how it works in theory. But when half the country does not vote it raises some questions, one in paticular.

The voting age has been reduced. The registration procedures are so simple that they shouldn't discourage would-be voters.

courage would-be voters.

In the recent presidential debate, the candidate-clashed on several issues. Reagan said that raising taxes was a last resort, while Mondale supported his proposal to raise taxes.

Reagan backed amit-abortion legislation, whereas Reagan backed amit-abortion legislation on this issue.

And both Mondale has inferryeability that the Reagan military budget is wasteful.

In 1978, a researcher found that there is relatively intendifference between the voting habits of alienated or "turned-off" voters and the voting habits of alienated or "turned-off" voters and the voting habits of alienated or "turned-off" voters and the voting habits of alienated in the proposed such as th dom and chance events.

Voters, on the other hand, tend to think that they are in control of their own lives.
Congress has been very reluctant to cut student aid which is represented by a relatively disciplined block of voters. The decision to cut food stamps, however, was made quickly because the people whom it would affect are the poor and the uneducated, typically the least likely to vote.
Your vote can affect government policy.
Furthermore, if voters continue to refuse to vote, it might undermine the legitimacy of the government in the eyes of peoples from other nations.

The sounds of music not to be heard in the "wilderness.

One of the hope I have had in the course of writing this in the course of writing this the hope is have be able to inform the Harper community of the strange things that occur on campus, expected to always find something strange going on each week. so today I plan on which many of you are probably not aware. As a matter of fact, the majority of Harper students are part timers and spend III. Not that I'm especially sur prised, there are very few classes conducted in the cal-teria or lounge. On the other hand, a large on and J buildings.

Could this be a contributing reason why so few folks have had an opportunity to hear the radio station for which they pay?

The answer is obvious. The question remains, however, why WHCM doesn't broadcast into the areas of the school where most of the students are. The striking conspicuity of allowing the audience to hear the broadcast is ridiculously clear.

In trying to track down the answer to this burning ques-tion, I dropped in at the WHCM office (which, by the way, is located in A-Bldg.).

located in A Bldg.)
According to the friendly folks at HCM, the reason they don't broadcast in D or J is because instructors in those tocales complained that the station was disrupting classes. Realizing, of course, that the main reason for the existence of the school is education, such a complaint seems to have merit.

Following his trip, Kawachi, no is on a three-month sab-atical, visited Harper College a Friday, October 5.

"He came specifically to see me," said Paul Sipiera, geol-ogy instructor. Sipiera is work-ing on a joint research project with Kawachi which involves analyzing meteorites.

"It (the speech) was very technical," said Robert Renguso, geology student. "It was good to see and hear a pre-sentation by someone with so much education."

ACT math scores rose three-tenths of a point to 18.1, social studies two-tenths of a point to 17.3, and natural science one-tenth of a point to 21, reported ACT spokes woman Judy Emery.

Both men and women did best in natural science. Men posted an average score of 22.4, the same as in 1982-83, and women averaged 19.9, an increase of three-tenths of a point. Women scored lowest in math with a t6.1 average.

Men's lowest average was 0.3

Overall, women's average cores went up three-tenths of a point to 17.9, while men tenths of a point hide over last year. Emery said.
A perfect score on the ACT is 3.

Thirteen percent of the students scored in the 2% srange, 2% percent scored from 21.2% points, 28 percent scored from 21.2% points, 28 percent scored from 21.2% points, 29 percent scored fairly constant for two years.

Y&T and Kick Axe's metal attack not afraid to take some chances and that is something a lot of other metal bands can't Staff writer

On the brighter side of today's metal scene comes a talented Canadian quintet called "Kick Axe". Don't let the name fool you. Don't let the name fool you, these guys aren't your every-day leather and studs Devil worshippers. Not only is this one of the best metal debuts of the year, it has to be one of the best in a long time.

With the west coast turning out an average of two new out an average of two new of the coast turning out an average of two new of people might think that V&T are just another band trying to cash in on the metal craze that is sweeping the country. Not so, these guys have been together more than a decade and their latest LP, "In Rock We Trust," is the band's sixth effort and a surprising let-down.

Don't get me wrong, these are still the same guys who gave us probably the best hard rock abum ever released (1981) 'En the hard rock abum ever released (1981) 'En the hard rock abum ever got and the hard rock and Roll's Comg to Save the you not tee something ian't Caustaneth abum ever got and rock abum ever got and the hard rock and Roll's Comg to Save the you not tee something ian't Caustanet on page 18

The voters need to know the facts

Recent presidential public opinion polls have shown that President Ronald Reagan has a 15-point lead over the candidate who promised to raise taxes, walter F. Mondale.

Although the incumbent generally has the advan-tage in times of prosperity, and there are certainly many variables involved, the wide margin by which Reagan leads illustrates clearly that Americans don't like to pay taxes.

Reagan leads illustrates clearly that Americans on Illike to pay taxes.

Voters in community college district 512 exemplify the current trend in the desire to lower taxes. In 1973, Harper trustees proposed a tax referendum which was defeated because of the anti-taxation sentiments that rose from California's Proposition 33. Now, six years later, the Harper trustees again are "sidering a tax referendum. The difference lies in a fact that Harper has no other options left other vital educational programs.

The tuttion is near the legal limit, and cannot be counted on as additional source revenue. Although the state apportionments were initially intended to supply one-half the college operating costs, they traditionally have provided only one-third of those costs and are currently providing only 25 percent.

McGrath predicts a $720,000 shortfall for next year McGrath predicts a 5720,000 shorttail for next year. Harper College offers numerous educational programs that benefit the community in ways that are not always readily apparent. For example, some graduates of Harper end up designing automobiles or highways. Others end up in community service or politics.

The benefits of a fine community college are too numerous to mention. Unless the voters are made aware of Harper's financial crisis, chances are high that the proposed referendum will again fail the state of the proposed referendum will again fail to the proposed referendum will again fail to the proposed to the precarious situation that presently threatens the quality of education at the college.

Exportation ignorance runs amuck

The problem with the negative trade balance that exists between the United States and other countries will increase in the next few years if American businessmen don't become more aware of the rising $130 billion trade deficit, said Joseph F. Christiano, director of the Chicago district of the U.S. Department of

For the last three years, the deficit has been funded by foreign investments abroad and the interests earned from them, Christiano said.

While many countries thrive on exportation and other countries such as Japan cannot exist without exportation, American businessmen feel perfectly content to go into other avenues of profit making.

Not realizing the profit-making potential involved in the process of exportation, most businesses opt for the almost protectionalistic pursuit of domestic

While this mode of thought may apply to certain sectors of the business world, the overwhelming lack of knowledge of exportation has reached epidemic proportions in this country.

Christiano believes this ignorance of international marketing could possibly be the eventual downfall of the American economy.

Egypt and Spain used to be world leaders until they fell behind the times, Christiano said.

Citing the vigorous international marketing programs in other countries such as Japan. Christiano believes the only end in sight would be the education of the American businesses community concerning the advantages of exportation.

The exporting organizations in many European country's are very prestigious. In Japan, for instance, the MITI (Ministry of International Trade and Industry) is considered one of the most prestigious organizations.

Christiano noted that part of the blame for the lack of knowledge of exportation in this country is due to the high costs of manufacturing in the U.S.

Donald T. Sedik, professor of management at Harper, is proposing the two-year "international marketing" degree program which would educate students to enter the field of exportation and thereby indirectly boosting America's competitive edge in this area.

The very tentative list of courses that Sedik has proposed includes the following: ACC 101; ENG 101.

EN

The proposed program is only a rough draft, but from the list the curriculum sounds like a very educational concept.

There are many areas in our society that need improvement. We believe with this prehistoric grasp of international marketing most American businesses possess, this program in the very least is a step in the right direction

Dear Editor.
In the Oct. 25 edition of the Harbinger, Dan Coit wrote a column about the recent cancellation of a visit by the Percy campaign, in which Percy's daughter was 10 appear

At best, I was disappointed that the Harbinger even published his column. His report ing techniques were obviously swayed by his own opinions at to what happened and perhaps by his hurt pride.

After reading this piece of trash, I decided to investigate the charges that the Percy campaign had abandoned Harper College without even application.

After two phone calls, which cost me all of 50 cents, I found that the Percy campaign had cancelled the appointment with Harper an entire week ahead of time due to the illnesses of his daughter and the fact that other major heads of the campaign were scheduled to meet elsewhere.

I also found that Percy's campaign would again be com-ing back to Harper the next week.

The fact that Coit waited in vain for Percy's daughter to arrive was an administrative problem and not one of Percy's

It is a shame that this type of inept reporting should be allowed to be printed, and as for the reporter.....

I feel it's just another case of one not knowing his head from another part of his anatomy. At least Coit should apologize to his peers and to the Percy campaign for this uncalled-for slander Douglas J. Wiltse Student

To make matters worse, Swami's attorney (a Harper graduate) arrived in Palastine instead of Palatine and could not be present for he trial.

As long as I'm here anyway, I think I'll take in a little sun." the attorney explained.

A hush came over the crowd as Judge Whopper banged his gavel and asked for order in the court-room.

Swami Says

The seemingly endless odyssey of Swami reached its climax during the suspensefilled trial held yesterday in the Palatine County Courtroom.

All eyes focused on a sweat-soaked Swami and his scant-ily-clad harem (especially the blonde with the revealing cleavage) as they entered the

The tension was thick as the court bailiff atempted to quiet the mumbling crowd

Soon, Judge (Have it My Way) Whopper entered, sport-ing the traditional black robe, gavel and bad hair piece worn by all fashion-conscious judges, and the trial began.

From the start, Judge Whop-per appeared to be in a particu-larly irritable mood as he shifted from side to side on the bench.

Later, very inside source revealed that a possible reaso for Judge Whopper's discon fort may have been attribute to a severe case of hemorrhoids.

However, that wasn't the only thing going against Swami. The jury seemed to be extremely tired and in no con-didion to listen to the lengthy

"Bailiff, send the jury out for the verdict." Apparently, the jury had got-ten together the evening before for a jury instruction party and were all hung-over and

As the jury groaned to their feet, the Judge gave his final instructions. "I want you members of the jury to evaluate the evidence of the prosecution and at least glance at the testimony of the defendant before you find him guitty."

The prosecuting attorney, Bernham "The Kangaroo" Bailey, presented a compelling case describing the charges of attempted child-pornography and possession of mind expanding drugs.

Despite the impassioned pleas of Swami, the jury con-tinued nodding off while the evidence was presented in the mystic's defense

Midway through Swami's defense, Whopper stood up and violently scratched the seat of his pants.

"I can't take this anymore!"
the jurist said

After nearly three minutes of intense deliberation, the 12 members asked the bailiff for the trial transcript and a large bottle of Pepto-Bismol.

Shortly thereafter, the jury returned with their verdict. "We find the defendant, that perverted schmuck, kind of guilty," the jury foreman said. Exhaling a sigh of relief, Whopper passed his judge-ment on the bereaved astrologer.

astrologer.

"The jury finds you guilty of bad taste in the first degree and you are hereignees, at that point, Whopper pulled a quarter from his pocket and flipped it in the air, neatly catching it in his outstretched hand.

"A. uh, talls. No, to the death penalty."

Citing concern with the environment, Whopper sentenced Swami to the unleadedgas chamber.

The Swami dropped to his knees facing east and bowed his head to the ground.

"Allah!" he screamed, referring to his absent attorney, Fred "Bubba" Allah, of the law firm of Dewey, Burnham and Howe, "You'll never golf in this town again!"

When asked whether he would appeal the sentence, the turbaned easterner pro-claimed, "The Swami appeals to no one!"

After Swami finished his final statement, he was grabbed by the ankles and dragged off lo await execution.

Superior teaching makes the difference.

The education of teachers is a responsibility we take seriously at Roosevelt University.

That's why we're proud to have dynamic professors like George Olson in our College of Education. An expert in classroom applications of microcomputers, he also has a special interest in using word processors to teach writing skills. In addition, his courses on curriculum design and principles of administration prepare his students for the challenges they'll face as teachers or administrators.

Roosevelt's College of Education offers both undergraduate and graduate programs. No matter which program you select, you'll find experienced professors like George Olson who are committed to excellence in teaching

Harper - clean door mats too

By Bill Kech Editor-in-chief The Chicago Sun-Times reported in a five-part series which began last Sunday of a ampant patronage system at ritten Community College in tiver Grove, Illinois.

River Grove, Illinois.
The allegations purport that chairman of the Triton board of trustees, Pascal F. "Pat" Naples, acting on behalf of the college, conducted extensive business, both bid and no-bid, with his political allies, family members and, in several cases, with firms having alledged histories of crime syndicate connections.

Harper officials claim a similar scandal at this college is nearly impossible because of meaning in the college is nearly impossible because of the college is nearly impossible because of the college and th

Is there anybody out there?

In the November 1 edition of the Harbinger, there was a humorous cry coming from the PERSON-NALS: Elke - are you still out there?

The question was pointed at one particular pho-tographer who had been absent for the last few weeks.

Merzdorf wondered: Am I still out there? And where out there am I?
There is a prevalent feeling that is typical for many students involved in extracurricular activities this Winter is around the corner, the weather is changing, students appear to be sleep walking around the campus

Adjustments have been made and many classes are beginning to get monotonous. Midterms are over and the dreaded finals are quickly approaching.

Students can relax and catch their breath for a few weeks before that fateful finals weeks suddenly creeps up.

Change is the only constant. New jobs come, stu-dents quit or lose jobs, romance blossoms and hearts sometimes are broken. Sometimes you get lucky and win $5000, but most of the time you just survive.

Merzdorf asks: What's on the minds of the students as they sit in the cafeteria or the library? How many are happy? How many are not sure what in this world they stand for? How many don't know where they are

And how many are just somewhere out in space, lost in their thoughts, away from the real world? After contemplating these questions, Merzdorf realized that she too had gotten herself into a daily routine, similar to that of the majority of the students, which didn't leave time or space for friends and activities she enjoyed.

With this new awareness, she encourages students caught in the daily grind to take time out to let people know that they still care.

Time for another look at modern "music" groups

Something has to be done about these modern must claus: the names they choose for their bands are getting completely out of hand. At their isk of their banding old. Opinion

In 1863 the Supreme Court made the controversial ruling banning prayer in public schools. It seems strange that in a land where people so highly value freedom this very personal freedom it was the search for religious freedom that brought the colonists to America in the first place. And what does it say on our money? In 6 Gd we

Certainly stamping that logo on our coins does not mean everyone in America trusts in or even believes in God, but most of us believe in the unalienable

Most people support the bill of rights which explicitly prohibits Congress from passing any law that abridges the freedom of worship, petition, assembly, speech or the press.

Why then has the Supreme Court outlawed prayer in public schools? On what grounds do they base their judgement? It certainly doesn't have its roots in the soil of the U.S. Constitution.

In fact, we think the banning of prayer is not only unconstitutional, but it is also inconsistent with the Courts previous rulings.

The Supreme Courts rulings have basically fol-lowed this line of thought: In order to guarantee the greatest degree of freedom to the greatest number of people, a person retains his rights or freedoms under all circumstances except in those instances where his or her individual freedoms infringe on other peoples corporate freedoms

But, in complete incongruity with this philosophy, the Court has stood by its decision to ban prayer despite strong opposition from Southerners and ervatives

Some of the arguments that support the ruling are not without merit.

If a Jewish or an atheistic child is forced to mouth a Christian prayer it could very legitimatly be considered an infringement of that childs rights.

But the Court has also resisted the proposal to set aside a time for silent prayer. This type of prayer would not favor any specific belief, yet would give the students a time during the day to give thanks to God and express themselves in this respect.

To completely outlaw prayer or even the setting aside of time for prayer does not seem like a legitimate response. It certainly is not a solution. As Justice Robert Jackson said, "we (the justices) are not final because we are right; we are right because we are final."

However, there are those who would even question whether the Supreme Court's ruling is final. As one student puts it: "Who says that there is no prayer in schools, with finals coming I know a lot of students who are going to be praying.

Lawmakers should listen to the people

Illinois Governor James Thompson has recently signed into law a bill requiring mandatory wearing of seat belts.

This law, which will go into effect on July 1. provides for a $25 fine for drivers and front seat passengers not wearing their seat belts.

According to the Daily Herald, public opinion has been more than 2-to-1 against the bill.

It is mainly because of the lack of public support that this law should be repealed before it has the opportunity to go into effect.

For many years we have seen a frightening trend in government; the passage of unpopular legislation without the support of the people.

During the oil crisis of the past decade, the national speed limit of 55 miles-per-hour was pushed upon the nation's motorists without referendum. Indeed, the public opinion is still against that law as evidenced by its widespread disobedience.

Two hundred years ago, the founding fathers of our nation found it necessary to resort to armed revolt over the issue of lack of governmental representation.

While we in no way propose overthrow of the gov-ernment, we deplore the growing trend of passing of legislation which is clearly against the will of the

The basis of American government is that elected legislators represent the wishes of their constituents regardless of the lawmaker's personal opinion Passage of laws against the wishes of the people is clearly in violation of the spirit, if not the letter of the

We hope that our elected representatives recognize this dangerous trend rather than continue the downward slide toward totalitarianism.

Laws passed to protect us from ourselves on the nation's highways may prove to be the first step in setting a precedent which we find already intolerable.

Perhaps George Orwell's prophetic novel has not missed the point after all, but was only off-target by a few years.

Harper shot only 25 percent from the field and Moffett only made two of 17 shots. The Lady Hawks never got in gear as they trailed by five points at the end of the first half.

Back at the start of the winter break the future looked promising as the team was at full strength.

Harper started the break los-ing to Truman 68-54 on Dec. 20, before the home crowd. Kowalik scored 12 points and Richie had II.

The Lady Hawks then traveled south to Galesburg after the Christmas tourney.

The Lady Hawks lost their first two games of the tourney, but won their last game for a third place finish. Soon River 77-51 bec 26, Carl Sandburg 89-49 bec 22, before defeating Lakeland 57-57.

In the three games, Spieth had a 15.3 points per game average including 22 against Lakeland, and Kowalik had a 14 points per game average in the tourney.

Each area will be staffed by student volunteers, administrators and student activities representatives.
"The reason we decided to try this is that we want to reach out to the night students," Pankanin explained. The literature will include information on the free attorney service, special programs for children of adult students and information about how student activity fees are allocated.

"We're hoping that we get 20 students at each location." Pankanin said. She indicated that each location will have enough literature for 100 studens.

Time to pay your fair share

Someone once said, "You're either part of the problem or part of the solution."

As with many adages concerning society, this one rings with truth.

rings with truin.

Harper College can be considered a society or, at the very least, a microcosm of a society.

We can see a number of people within the Harper community who are part of the problem and a number who are part of the solution.

The problem in question is one upon which the kistence of Harper as we know it currently rests. Harper is in the straits of dire financial trouble at we very hands of those who benefit from it the most: local taxpayers

Local residents are simply not providing their fair share of funding for our college. Though use of that particular wording may not be as diplomatic as many we have beard, that is the cold, hard fact.

cold, hard fact.

Since the school was founded in 1965, students have carried their own part of the fiscal load through increases in tuition of almost 250 percent.

The state of Illinois pulled its own weight in keeping pace with increases to the tune of about 125 ing pace with increases to the tune of about 125 percent.
What of the local residents? A resounding zero

The result of this is that Harper has the distinction of being the second most-expensive community col-lege in the state while the local college tax rate is the second lowest in the state.

Homeowners in district 512 still pay the same amount in taxes to support Harper as they did in 1965 and district 512 resides in one of the most affluent areas of the state.

While paying taxes is understandably not high on anyone's list of fun things, it is one of life's inevitables. Unfortunately, many voters equate taxes with government waste without giving much thought to the difference between federal and local taxes.

Harper College is far divorced from those govern-mental bodies which have angered us with absur-dities such as $7,000 coffeepots and $800 hammers.

To the contrary, officials at Harper deserve needls for their ability to operate this institution espite 20 years of inflation. We believe that the modest increase requested in the coming referendum is both justified and

Harper has contributed greatly to both businesses and families who reside in the area.

While pondering whether to vote yea or nay next month, ask yourself one question: would you be able to live here if you received the same salary you did two decades ago?

If the answer is no, you owe it to yourself and the community to support the tax increase.

We exhort all residents, both home- and businessowners to support the referendum and become part of the solution.

Answers to the questions which baffle the Harper community

As one of Harper's foremost celebrities. I am often called upon to explain the reasoning behind some of the stranger aspects of life at Harper.

While I can generally nswer these questions, I often answer these questions, I often have to infer the reasoning behind some of the more bizarre policies.

In this week's column, I will attempt to enlighten you of the 'logic' behind a few of the nore arcane policies affecting

Dear Curious: There is a perfectly reasonable explanation for the little envelopes which has nothing to do with economy.

For years, every winter has blanketed tha campus with snow and ice on the sidewalks.

One of the little-known bene-tits of the college employees is that of viewing unwary stu-dents slipping on the ice and falling on their posteriors.

As the students tumble through the air, employees rate the fall by points for style, distance and the number and quality of unprintable

Soviet actions force Star Wars support

Many of our well-meaning peers have recently exressed a justified fear of nuclear war. We also believe that the terror of nuclear war must be avoided at all costs but those who propose unilateral disarrament are blinding themselves to the

Some disarmament proponents have also expressed disapproval of "The Strategic Defense Initiative" (SDI) popularly known as "Star Wars." These misguided critics also mean well but either ignore or are ignorant of the facts.

We have recently received a copy of the initiative nd, after reading the entire document, see no reason by it should be the subject of dissent, especially in lew of the actions of the Soviet Union in treaty In a report by President Reagan to Congress, seven issues were discussed which will clarify the need for SDI.

· The Soviets maintain and have used biological agents in Laos, Kampuchea and Afghanistan in clear violation of the 1925 Geneva Convention. The Soviets have violated the Final Act of the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe by inadequately notifying NATO of military maneu-vers by more than 25,000 troops.

 The Soviets have disregarded the Anti-Ballistic lissile (ABM) Treaty by building an ABM facility in Krasnoyarsk.

The Soviet Union agreed in SALT II not to produce, test or deploy SS-16 ICBM's. Since that time, activities in Plesetsk indicate such deployment.

• The Threshold Test Ban Treaty, signed by the Soviets in 1974 forbids testing after March, 1976 of nuclear weapons exceeding 150 kilotons. Evidence indicates that the Soviets have violated this treaty.

In view of these findings, the United States is clearly not the aggressor and has been shown to have honored all of the agreements in question.

President Reagan announced SDI in 1983 in order to research the possibility of developing non-nuclear defensive capability.

According to Reagan, "The primary responsibility of a government is to provide for the security of its people." SDI would provide that security and allow the United States and allied nations to dismantle a large percentage of their nuclear stockpile without compromising security.

The Soviet Union is not comfortable with that prospect because, they say, it will alter the balan

In October, 1979, Leonid Brezhnev said, "A balance of forces...has taken place in Europe." At that time, they fielded about 800 nuclear warheads.

In October, 1980, Soviet negotiators said, "A bal-ance now exists." At that time, they fielded about 925 nuclear warheads nuclear warheads.

In February, 1981, Breszhnev said, "There is approximate equality now." The Soviet arsenal then included about 975 nuclear warheads.
Soviet Defense Minister Ustinov said in August 1982, "Approximate parity. "exists today..." The Soviet warhead count was about 1,200.

April, 1885 heard the Soviet newspaper TASS speak of "currently existing parity." At that time, the Soviets fielded about 1,300 nuclear warheads.

Clearly, the problem lies in the East rather than the West.

We believe the present administration is serious about disarmament and is pursuing the most logical means to achieve that end.

Continued reliance on our present weapons while the Soviets amass ever-larger quantities is just plain foolhardy.

Let's allow the research to continue so that nuclear disarmament can be a reality.

If SDI is workable, we can dismantle our missiles and still remain safe.

A large dance floor occupies most of the first level of the juice-bar. There is also a stage on the same floor to accomo-date bands

The second floor reveals an entire view of the dance area from a balcony. Here, a spacious open room offers retreat from the loud crowd of dancers. Several holograms adorn the walls on this second level, which accent the decorations.

On the third level rests a video viewing room, where music videos flash on a giant screen. A television room also resides on the third floor in a small psychedelic room.

Across the hall, a small den with an old fireplace allows a group of people to sit down and relax. A statue of a horse hangs above the fireplace, reflecting light emitting from several colorful neon bulbs. A feeling of security seems to emanate from the room.

Shot in several different towns in Ohio, the sets and decorations of "Mischief" have an authentic appearance of the 50's era. Everything from the local soda shop-hangout to the white-picket-fenced houses have a nostalgic touch.

Although the plot appears to be predictable, producer Noel Black throws in some twists and turns to complicate things.

Instead of falling for Jonathan, Marilyn is attracted to Gene. However, Gene pre-fers the affection of Bunny Mil-ier (Catherine Mary Stewart), Marilyn's best friend.

Several conflicts develop here. Jonathan is upset with Gene while Marilyn is disap-pointed when she discovers that Gene is interested in Bunny. For Gene, he is faced with competition for Bunny with her boyfriend Kenny Bru-baker, the town bully.

Marilyn suddenly falls for Jonathan after he calls her for a date. Gene and Bunny also find themselves in each other's arms. There are no explana-tions for the unpredictable shifts in the movie. The movie is incomplete in presenting the story.

Despite the lack of a good screenplay, all four main char-acters are well-portrayed by their respective players. The performances by the four young actors and actresses are honest and sincere, giving the movie its strongest merit.

Emo who?
That's the reaction most people would have if they were asked about the Downers
Grove comedian a few year ago.
However, the 28 year-old comic has propelled himself into the world of fame and for-tune with appearances on the "Late Night with David Letter-man Show." He has also cut an album with Epic Records.

Philips started to seriously do comedy at the age of 20. He says that he is constantly working on comedy. "It's a Philips.

He first started his act at Zanies, 1548 N. Wells, and the Comedy Womb in 8030 W. Ogden. Despite the fact that he was paid very little when he first started to perform, he was not discouraged. His persistence and devotion have apparently paid off. He now performs in the more country, such as Caroline's in New York.

This Thursday at noon, he will appear at Harper in the A-building lounge. The admission will be absolutely free, and is sponsored by Harper's Program Board and Student

For those students not able to attend the performance, Philips will be appearing at Zanies, Thursday at 8:30 p.m., Friday 9 and II, 15 p.m., Saturday 7, 9 and II, 15 p.m. and Sunday at 8:30 p.m.

I used to pray for a new bike," said Emo, "but then I realized that the Lord doesn't work that way. So I just stole it and asked Him to forgive me." This is one of th few times he il be back in Chicago, so be sure to catch his act.

MADISON, WI—
Many Harper students enjoy other sports besides football and basketball. One of the most popular outdoor sports in the country is fishing and the most challenging of freshwater fishing is musky fishing.

Wisconsin is the capital of musky country: "Wisconsin Muskellunge Waters" helps the fisherman locate musky producing lakes.

This revised and updated publication includes large two-color maps detailing the location of the musky lakes and surrounding roads and highways.

An index for the lakes is kepted to the maps and tabu-lates size, depth, access and most important, the mus-kellunge class (A-B-C) of the lake.

A note is also made in the index if a lake structure map is available. This 48-page book can be obtained by mail by sending 57 percept to.

Five Hawks scored in double figures against Illinois Valley. Again, Steve Tomlinson led the way with 17 points, John Mosack and Al Watkins added 15 and 12 points respectively with Rick Elkins and Henry Thomas each scoring 10.

"Our offense was very patient and we were able to get a lot of open shots," said head coach Roger Bechtold.

illinois Valley ran off five unanswered points only to see the Hawks come back on two long John Mosack field goals and a thunderous Henry Thomas dunk.

The first half ended with Illi-ois Valley on top 34-33.

The second half saw a real seesaw battle as both teams gained and lost leads making the game a real nail-biting affair.

Henry Thomas and Steve Tomlinson grabbed some key rebounds to prevent further scoring by the Apaches.

Part of the reason the Apaches were unable to ring up a large score was the con-taining of their center Tim Moran to only 12 points. The last meeting of the two teams saw Moran break loose for 44

Why one way?

An exceptionally harsh winter has finally begun to loosen its grip on the Harper campus.

With its arctic temperatures goes the last of the snow or so we hope. Despite near-bitzzard conditions on many occasions, maintenance crews worked many hours to battle dritting and falling snow so We applaud the hard work done by the physical plant employees who worked under extreme adverse conditions.

the flow of traffic into and out of our facility.

Despite the best efforts, however, our community has been limited to use of only two-thirds of our available entrance and geress routes.

The limitation is caused by one-way traffic on the road directly morth of buildings. A and the condition of the condition o entrance.

The reason for the one-way control of that road is neredily apparent from the traffic flow. Indeed, neredily apparent from the traffic flow. Indeed, one has been been at best, however logic would point toward limiting traffic to a westbound direction if it does need to be limited to one-way. If the traffic were directed to a westbound alignent, those students and faculty members who spend their evenings in buildings G, H, I and J would have access to the Roselle Rd exit rather than being forced to use Algonquin Rd or Euclid Avenue.

We feel that use of the westerly route would help control the congestion occuring at the north and south driveways by funnelling a portion of the vehicles in that direction.

ndeed, were a traffic engineer consulted, we lieve that he or she would make just that recommendation.

Because of the sheer volume of traffic at peak times, there is no way for back-ups to be totally eliminated.

eliminated.
It seems illogical, though, for the Harper community to join the battle by first tying one hand behind our back.

The 1985 season is winding down for the Harper Hawks basketball team. As the season comes to a close, games become more crucial in order to reach the year-ending playoffs.

On February 14, the Hawks basketball team played a cru-cial game against the Rock Valley Trojans in the Mould-ing gymnasium to try and retain their aumber-two rank-ing in the state of Illinois.

The Rock Valley team is in the N4C North Central Com-munity College Conference; cellar, but played tough against the Hawks who escaped with an eight-point 33-85 victory to hold their ranking.

At the outset of the game, the rojans startled the Hawks ith a quick 6-0 lead. It wasn't ntil 16:43 into the game that

Lady Hawks over DuPage

By Owen Jirka Sports Editor Late Tuesday evening, the Harper Lady Hawks defeated the Lady Chaps of DuPage 79-38. Leading scorers for Harper were Jenny Kowalik with 25 points. Lori Riche with 22 and Theresa Moffet with 12 noints.

But last Thursday you couldn't tell the Harper Lady Hawks basketball team, they should have had an easy game against the Lady Trojans of Rock Valley. The Lady Tro ins may be near the bottom of the N4C (North Central Com-munity College Conference) standings but played Harper's Lady Hawks strongly only to lose 58-50.

The early beginnings of the first half showed no indication of a close game between the two teams as Harper steamed out to a 21-14 lead.

The seven-point lead lasted only a short time as the Lady Trojans scored to unanswered points to take a 24-22 lead. One reason for Rock Valley's scoring barrage was due to the hot outside shooting of center Jana Johnson who ended the half with 10 points.

The second half saw the lead change hands many times. Early in the half, Lori Richie (14 points overall) gave the Lady Hawks a one-point lead. The lead was the second since the earlier lead with two min-utes remaining in the first half.

Rock Valley regained the lead at 30-29 until Angle Reinhofer hit two important free throws to give Harper another brief lead.

With the score 35-34 in Rock Valley's favor, Lady Hawks' center Jenny Kowalik began to hit crucial inside shots giving Harper a three-point lead at 40-37.

Yet again the Lady Trojans fought back to take a lead of four points. Harper had numerous chances to narrow the score, but easy shots weren't falling Harper's way.

was way down the whole game," said Lady Hawks head coach Tom Teschner. "We can't miss easy shots on the inside. If they do miss a shot, they show no enthusiasm offernse because they are worried about missing their shot."

Finally, late in the game, the Lady Hawks offense and defense gelled and started to pull away with the score end-ing at 58-50.

"We started out well and played well at the end," said Teschner. "We played better in this game than the last two games because we played with intensity. We need the inten-sity because we have a tough week ahead."

The Lady Hawks do indeed have a tough week ahead as they face the women's team from Moraine Valley who is undefeated at 22-9.

February 25 the team has a makeup game against the Joliet Lady Wolves. The game originally scheduled for Feb. 12 was cancelled because of inclement weather.

Arend, Loprieno wrestle to regionals

These two wrestlers are Ken Arend and Dan Loprieno, who qualified for the National Wrestling Tournament.

Arend made it look easy by dominating his 190-pound weight class. He pinned all of his opponents in the first

"I really wanted to win this tournament. I have worked hard all year for this," said Arend. "My goal is to place in the top three, I think I can do it and so does coach (head coach Norm Lovelace).

The other national qualifier (Dan Loprieno) did not have it as easy. Loprieno, who wrestles at 142 pounds, made the semi-finals but that's where the trouble began.

The other national qualifier (Capa Ingerieso did not have it as easy, Loprieno, who wrestees at 142 pounds, made the semi-finals but that is where to rouble began. In the middle of the first period, Dan auditered a shoulder injury Loprieno, bowever.

The team did well enough to continue of the team, the season is at a close. The team did well enough to Castissed on page 11.

Education cuts: counterproductive

The fact that the federal budget is an unholy mess is hardly disputable. Deficit spending, as anyone who has ever balanced a checkbook knows, is not only dangerous but tantamount to fiscal suicide. Getainly, deficit spending can provide short-term relief but the time will come when the piper must be

The current administration is presently reviewing plans to reduce spending partly by cutting federal student aid programs.

The final "divestiture" recommended by the cabi-net head is barely worth mentioning.

Our "three-weeks-at-the-beach" was spent working at second (and third) rate part-time jobs for those of us lucky enough to find them.

We believe that cuts in the federal budget are necessary but the administration is neglecting its own commissioned study: that of the Grace Commission.

If pork-barrelling congressmen would institute the changes recommended by that group, the deficit would disappear.

The annual cost of maintaining a single unnecessary military base would probably pay the entire tuitions of several colleges full of students.

The value to our nation of these unneceded facilities and many other federal frills detailed by the commission is misuscule compared to that which has truly made our country the greatest in the world. It is availability of education which allows the quality of life in the United States to exceed that of lesser nations.

As for compromising the fundamental value of education, let's not cut off our nose to spite our face.

Modern medicine can't cure this ancient but universal affliction

Letter to the Editor
Dear Editor,
I personally would like to congratulate you and your staff on the editorial regarding the one-way road on campus.

When I joined the student senate in the fall of 1963, one thing I wanted to see changed was the status of that road.

I know the aggravation caused by having to some-times wait up to 45 minutes to exit onto Euclid Avenue or Algonquin Rd.

According to the last word I received from the administra-tion, installing speed-bumps and allowing Iwo-way traffic has been considered.

The speed-bumps were considered because of administrators fears for the safety of those crossing or walking on the road.

These fears are justified but they should also consider the needs of the commuter student in leaving the campus as quickly as possible.

I feel that if two-way traffic on the lake road became a fact, it would fulfill one of my goals as a student senator. Thus far, however, the administration has been slow to act for some reason.

I hope that your editorial and my continued efforts will make two-way traffic on all Harper roads a reality

An ambient temperature drop of only a few degrees causes us to wail aloud, "When will it ever end?"

But have faith, gentle readers, the end is indeed in sight. The recent temperature rise and days of fog and drizzle are heralding a new era. In a matter of weeks the sun will melt the incides hanging dagger-like from the eaves.

Lady Hawks end season in close game

By Owen Jirka Sports Editor Harper's twenty fifth win was as hard as any of the twenty four they had won previously.

Last Tuesday, the Hawks squeaked by the Lake County Lancers 68-65.

In a very close game, neither team had a big lead. Harper had the largest lead of the night (7 points) midway through the first half, but couldn't carry it over into the second half which became very physical.

Late in the game, a near fight broke out as Rick Elkins was hit in the face by an oppos-ming player.

Harper eventually took the lead in the waning moments as Steve Tomlinson (10 points) sank four straight free throws.

"These guys (Harper) don't know how to lone," said head coach Roger Bechtold, "and they weren't about to lose this

The long and arduous reg-ular season is finally over for the Hawks. The Hawks endet their regular season with a 24 record and 12-2 in the N4C (North Central Community College Conference) by win-ning two of their last three games

On Tuesday of last week, the Hawks lost a crucial game to the DuPage Chapparals in Glen Ellyn, but bounced back to defeat the Moraine Valley Marauders at home 79-63 and destroyed the Jollet Wolves in Jollet 115-90.

Midway through the first ball, forward Steve Tomlinson it an outside shot to give the points. Moraine Valley even-tually cut the lead to six points. Moraine Valley even-tually cut the lead to six points, but Rodney McCullum His long-range field goal at the buzzer to end the half with Harper on top by a 40-32 count.

"We were in control for most of the game," said Bechtold. "We had some great steals and ran the fast break well."

The second half started out with the Hawks steaming out to a 12-point lead. All Watkins, who finished the game with points, kept Harper alive as he tipped in a missed shot just as Moraine Valley accuract to be on the verge of a rally.

Moraine Valley's frustration showed late in the half as a technical foul was assessed to its head coach for telling the referee to shut-up. Reserve forward Tim Bunder hit one of two of the foul shots to give the Hawks a 72-55 lead.

"This game doesn't make up for the loss to DuPage," said Bechtold. "I was pleased with the way our sophomores went out on a high note."

The following day, the Hawks traveled to Joliet to take on the Joliet Wolves in a make-up game.

Leading the Harper 15-point win was Henry Thomas who scored a season-high 23 points. Two other Hawks posted season-highs against Joliet. Leon Brooks poured in 20 points and Al Watkins scored 17.

Other high scorers for the Hawks were Rick Elkins with 21 points and Steve Tomlinson with 18.

The Lady Hawks came out steaming in the second half by hitting outside shots and grabing key rebounds. The drive spearheaded by forward to. Richie 12 points overall) narrowed the Moraine Valley lead to nine points.

During the drive, foul trou-ble became a factor as Richie, Kowalik and guard Diana Wegner all picked up their fourth fouls. Kowalik and Wegner eventually fouled out leaving the Lady Hawks with only four players on the court.

"I don't think we were as ready as Tuesday's game (DuPage)." said Teschner. "We wanted the game but didn't seem ready," said Richie. Leading scorer for the able to return to work at Harper the following day. The cause of the problem was an incorrect mixture of chemicals in the chlorine air filtering system for the M-building pool.

Parking lots still problem

By Linda Steffenson Staff Writer Twenty years of discussion have still not answered the questions of how best to handle Harper's parking problems.

Despite 42 acres containing more than 4,500 spaces, park-ing continues to cause head-aches for student and staff alike.

According to physical plant director Donald DeBlase. It has been quite a concern this winter, especially with the arsh weather "Students have been park-ing in the faculty lots so some faculty couldn't even get out." DeBlase explained.

Destage explained.

Some students have raised questions regarding the fairness of separate parking facilities for the faculty members. Pete Bakas, vice president of administrative services cited tradition as the reason for the segregated parking.

"Employees are here throughout the day." Bakas said, "while students come and go." This, however, is not sup-ported by recent disclosures that to percent of Harper fac-ulty work only part-time.

DeBuas defended the favorable treatment of faculty but for exactly the opposite reason as Batas.

According to DeBinae, "Just for that reason: they (the 60 percent part-time faculty owne and go. They have a class, leave and come back for a class three hours later.

Unfortunately, Harper students find themselves in the same situation, nonetheless, the parking lots still remain negregated.

According to DeBiase, "It's the college policy to have park-ing the way it is."

Another part of the problem may be related to the original design of the campus. "As part of the overall plan the campus was designed with the grassy areas in mind," asid Donald Misic, director of business services.

"Another consideration was keeping the traffic away from the inner campus," he said.

"You have to give something to get something. In the parking question at Harper, pleasant surroundings won over having to walk a certain distance."

Bakas said that the location of the lots is the only complaint of which he is aware.

"The only thing I have heard that people are concerned nat the parking lots are far from the buildings," Bakas said.

DeBiase agreed the location of the lots is a problem especially in view of harsh winters and strong winds. "It's too bad the campus was designed the way it was," DeBiase said. But he also pointed out that changing the configuration would be impos-sibly expensive.

Officials have made efforts to help at least a portion of the students by allocating 79 spaces to the handicapped and temporarily disabled.

DeBiase said handicapped spaces are allocated by consid-ering the number of handi-capped students and visitors coming on campus.

"We are required by state law to have handicapped park-ing," DeBiase said.

Thus (ar no complaints regarding the number of handicapped and medical spaces have been communicated to college officials.

Bakas said that the school would consider re-allocation of those spaces if it were necessary.

"If a question came up, we would look at it again," he said.
Undoubtedly, the debate over parking will continue and students trekking across the windy lots will still grumble.

DeBiase has, however come up with a plan. "The ideal idea for a junior college is to have parking garages but the state won't finance them," he said

Sources familiar with the incident said the individual who usually mixes the chemicals was late for work that morning and a different individual mixed the chemicals, however Harper officials declined to name the workers responsible.

be watching the progress of what the school does with the to-cent increase. The referendum was sorely needed. In this editorial we're not dening that, but we hope that the money coming from this fund will be used wisely at the future. With the win the school will not have to make the cuts that would have been necessary if the referendum had not the reservation than it ended though and the celebration will be though and the celebration will be the being both as just started. For instance, the retaining wall at F-building desperately meeds repair so does the campus need to repair the lights in the parking lot as do other points in the campus need repair.

In the past all forms of gov-ernment have had their failures and successes after money had been granted to them by the citizens.

On Feb.26, the Harper referendum was one of the few tax increases to recently win approval.

The results of how the money from this referendum is used will be looked upon in the future when another referendum is on the ballot.

Harper Hawks reserve for-ward Henry Thomas relies on his stam-dunk in game situa-tions when a little revenge is needed. Baskethall has played a big part in Thomas' life.

"I've been playing basket-ball since the second grade," said Thomas.
From grade school, Thomas went on to play at Evanston High School where he gradu-ated in 1863.
Evanston has produced some fine basketball players such as Bob Mackey who went on to play at Marquette University and later play in the now extinct American Basket-ball Association (ABA).

Another product of Evanston, Everette Stephens, who now plays at Purdue University, is Thomas' cousin.

Thomas feels he want I over-shadowed by other players in high school.

I think I got everything I wanted in high school, explained Thomas, "I was a top recruit but lost control by asking for more from schools that were contacting me."

As for playing basketball at Harper, "It's all right, Junior college basketball is not much different from any other college ball. The competition is just like in a big university."

After his playing days at Harper are over. Thomas is unsure of where he is going to go.

This past year, Thomas has had his share of the action. Against Thomas came of the bench to pump in 20 points to lead all scorers. The final regular-season game of the year saw Thomas break losse for 23 points in a 115-90 drubbing of Jollet.

As for pro basketball, Thomas doesn't know his possibilities.

"Going pro was never really my goal, I never looked ahead that far," he said.

The two professional basket-ball players Thomas idolizes (Michael Jordan and Ralph Sampson) are two men most every basketball fanatic idolizes.

"I don't try to imitate any-one because their abilities are far better than mine," said Thomas.

Thomas will be competing with his teammates against Kankakee at Triton College in River Grove tomorrow in the basketball team's quest for the state championship.

Catching seems well in hand with Cariton "Pudge" Fisk and with Marc Hill doing backup duties.

The outfield will see the return of Harold Baines as well as speedster Rudy Law. Roln Kittle is hoping to improve on a disappointing 1984 season. Kittle may also exchange the designated hitting duties with Tom Paciorek and Greg Walker due to the retirement of befty Greg Luzinski.

If the Sox can improve their hitting and keep a steady pitch-ing staff, 1985 may be their year.

Coach reinstated

After a meeting with Harper president James McGrath student affairs director Dono

Stansbury and physical educa-tion dean John Gelch, Schau-ble practiced with the team last Wednesday.

"The concerns have been investigated and he's been reinstated," said Stansbury who would not comment further. Charges were not announced but a source close to the situation said they were of a serious nature.

"I'm glad to be back," said Schauble. "This has been one of the most trying times in my life. "The kids said that the practice we had yesterday (Wednesday) was the best they've had in a long time," he said.

Reaction to his return by the members of the swim team was one of excitement.

"I think its great that he's back," said sophomore Brad Von Readen. "I'm upset that he wasn't brought back sooner. I think that we could have been better prepared for the nationals if he wasn't gone so long After Schauble had been sus-pended Von Readen and his father headed a petition drive to have him reinstated.

Freshman swimmer Don Freels' reaction on his return, 'In the last month I had lost my stroke, but since he came back I've gotten it back."

The storm might have set-tied for now, but the waves in the swim program might have just begun. Schuable, who has coached at Harper the last two years, will resign at the end of this school year or possibly

"I'm not sure if I'll be back next year, but if the coach is not back I won't be," said Freels.

The other All-American is Todd Horndasch who said, "It depends on who will be coaching next year on whether I'm staying. Schauble said that the charge sphilosophical differences with the school and financial obligations are reasons he is going to resign.

Also leaving with him might be two freshman All-Ameri-cans and a group of high school seniors that were intending on going to Harper.

Schauble, who works part time at the Palatine Park Dis-trict, will be working full-time at the district next year. During his one-month layoff Roy Kearns, chairman of the physical education depart-ment, coached the teams.

COLLEGE COSTS ARE GOING UP. BUT SO IS THE ARMY COLLEGE FUND.

Tuition, books, lab fees, college living expenses – all seem to be climbing relentlessly. Well, here's some good news from the Army. Today's Army College Fund is climbing too. You can now accumulate over $25,000 for college, if you qualify.

What's more, you'll study, learn and become proficient in a useful skill. It could be a skill with so wide an application in both military and civilian life that it might help you decide what to take in college.

If you're determined to go on to college, but you don't know where the money is coming from, pick up an Army College Fund booklet from your local recruiter. It offers several options you'll want to investigate.

Excess bases are not needed

Senator Alan J. Dixon (D-III.) is incensed. In a recent communication from his office. Dixon described proposals to close to a Illinois military bases as "a complete outrage." Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Artz.) Included the Great Lakes Naval Complex, in Lake County and the Chicago Reserve Component, at O'Hare Field in a list of 22 sites to be considered for dismantling.

While Dixon may be "outraged" by the proposals. While Dixon may be "outraged" by the proposals, we believe that closing unnecessary military bases is quite prudent in this day of deficit reducing moves. Unfortunately, Dixon seems to be exhibiting behavior typical of those whose pet project is facing the budget at the budget is one which is politime error of "out the budget" is one which is politime ent words are "but may program (or military base) is too important."

Dixon said, "This proposal places much of the burden for spending cuts on our state and region."

When President Reagan employed the Grace Commission to find where spending reductions and economies could be made, members of both the senate and the house of representatives applauded their efforts. Kankakee topples Hawks in state

The season came to a suddenconclusion for the mens baskethall team.

Heave the weak was a sure of the season of the season of the season of the season of the state tournament, just ran out of gas in the opening game of the state tournament, just ran out of gas in the opening game of the state tournament, just ran out of gas in the opening fa-62 at Triton College. With the loss, Harper ended its season of the season denced by the 14-point build-up following the Harper surge. Part of the reason that the Hawks never led was that dependable scorers missed the dependence of the control of the con

kakes went on a scoring spree again and jumped out to a 14 point lead late in the game. At this stage of the match, nothing seemed to go right for the Hawks. At Wakkin 12 and Steve Wheeler was assessed a technical foul. Other contributing scorers were Seeve Tomisson with ny John Mosack with 8 and points.

Rodney McCullum with seven points.

"We played excellent defense, sad Bechtold," and out hustled them. The guys should also be commended for the running game.

Bechtold also praised the opposition, "Kambakee is very We had a great year and next; we had a great year and next; were seen will have a tough time trying to match this year's team."

Owen's NCAA picks

By Owen Jirka
Sports Editor
As the collegiate basketball season winds down, post-season games become increasingly important for
NCAA championship

The following are first-round games to be played in the quest for the "Final Four" and the eventual national

I will try to pick the winners (barring upsets) from Illinois schools and those of neighbor-ing states in their first-round ing states in their limitations games.

In the Eastern Round, Jayed in Atlanta, Georgia. Illinois (24.8) will face Northeastern (22.9). The Illini, ranked high in the preseason, have dropped down but have been playing well as of late. Take the Illini to win by 7.

Chicago S. Arbis looyola has been snubbed from the tournament in past years. This is Joyola's year and Alfredrick Hughes should have his usual spectacular game against the iona Gaels. The Ramblers by 15. The DePaul-Syracuse game is probably the longhest game is probably the longhest game is no both Iseams. DePaul is the quicker of the two and should upset the Orangemen by 5.

Notre Dame (20-8) against Oregon St. (22-8) is another tough game to pick. The Irish are a spotty team perform-ance-wise Take the Beavers by Is over the contissing Irish. as (21:2) should be a barn-burner. Arkansas with the faster team should escape with a 6-point win.

Michigan (25-3) vs. Farleigh Dickenson (21-9). Who the beck is Farleigh Dickinson? Go with the Big Ten champs in a romp. I owa State (21-12) against Ohio State (19-9) will be close because the OSU backcourt is a lot quicker and better shoot-ing. The Buckeyes by 3.

That about wraps up my picks for the midwest area teams but the final four may not include any of these. I think the four teams that will make the finals will be Georgetown, St. Johns, if they can last, Michigan, and Oklahoma.

Spring intramurals begin swimming laps. Logs will be kept in room M-222. Intra-mural t-shirts will be awarded to champions and runners-up. The intramural office is located in M-222. Additional

"The continuous access the prime of the real bug and the prime of the prime of the real bug and the prime of the real bug and the prime to the reason from the prime to the system is to support some 200 terminals," said Voegel. "That's bug and the bugs worted out of it on it."

We're hopping to have it on the prime to the prime to the reason from the prime to the prime on it."

The Illinois state legislature has made available $2 million for the specific purpose of purchasing new high tech computers for community colleges and the money has been distributed by the Illinois Com-munity College Board (ICCB) as grants.

The amount of the grants ranges from a minimum of $50,000 to a maximum of $200,000

"The total cost of the grant initially applied for was $150,000," said Voegel. "After ICCB had worked it over it had been reduced to $108.215."

The grant monies actually represent some $8,000 more than the cost of the computer. The extra money will be used for the purchase of the communication network and additional software and disc drives.

In addition to the state grant, which will fund the purchase of the computer. Harper has received an educational grant from the manufacturer, Prime Computer Inc

The educational grant from Prime will bring the cost of the computer down more than $180,000. from $286,500 to $100,000.

Voegel said George C. Dor-ner, Dean of Technology/Math Physical Science, was instru-mental in preparing the grant requests.

The two of them - Voegel and Dorner - together with Larry Haffner, the new director for academic computing, who was already familiar with the Prime 750 and who did most of the leg work on the project, "kind of put it together."

One major problem that has yet to be solved however, is where on the campus to place the computer.

"We are initiating purchase orders," Voegel said, "but you can't have the delivery truck pull up and not have the space ready."

'Sure Thing': a sure flick

John Cusack, an Evanston native, plays Walter "Gib" (Shoon, an Ivy) league student travelling to California to meet a "sure ling," (Nicolette Sher-idani as promised by his best Edwards.

Daphre Zuniga plays Alison Bradbury, a prim and proper all American girl going west to meet her equally prim and proper boyfriend, Jason (Boyd Gathee).

The film was shot mostly in Stockton, California because it contained the geographic diversity necessary to portray a realistic setting of the U.S.

Stockton is also home of the University of the Pacific, which resembles the Ivy League colleges of the East. The location was also chosen for its proximity to UCLA, the destination of the characters.

"The Sure Thing" is a movie that audiences of all ages can relate to because it sur's tarenage sex comedy like we have seen too often in theatres lately Reiner, infact, satirizes those films. Comic look at college life is an interpreted by Hollywood, with sincerity and ten derness. Reiner also explores the relationship that develops between the young couple.

MAKE THESE TWO COLLEGE YEARS REALLY PAY OFF.

Something has clicked. And you want to continue your education. Where will you get the money? Consider the Army College Fund. If you qualify, your two-year college education (60 semester hours) can help you accumulate up to $20,100 in a two-year enlistment. And you can enter the Army with a promotion.

While you're getting the money for college you'll be learning a valuable skill. You can choose from a variety of skills useful to the Army that could lead to a civilian career.

You'll also have a couple of years to experience the excitement and adventure of travel, doing new things and meeting new people.

The point: the Army has lots of ways to help you make the most of your two college years. Find out how. Call your local Army Recruiter.

COLLEGE COSTS ARE GOING UP. BUT SO IS THE ARMY COLLEGE FUND.

Tuition, books, lab fees, college living expenses—all seem to be climbing relentlessly. Well, here's some good news from the Army. Today's Army College Fund is climbing too. You can now accumulate over $25,000 for college, if you qualify.

What's more, you'll study, learn and become proficient in a useful skill. It could be a skill with so wide an application in both military and civilian life that it might help you decide what to take in college.

If you're determined to go on to college, but you don't know where the money is coming from, pick up an Army College Fund booklet from your local recruiter. It offers several options you'll want to investigate.

team from Canada will be in Detroit Tigers - The magical year came for the Tigers last year, but won't be repeated this year. No team has repeated since the Yankee's in the mid-70's.

Baitimore Orioles - The keys are the new acquisitions of outfielders Fred Lynn, Lee Lacy and pitcher Don Aase.

4. New York Yankees - Most of the team is the same as last year when the team came in third. First baseman Don Mat-tingly is the key.

6. Milwaukee Brewers - Will the Bam bring back the Brew Crew? Manager George Bam-berger returns, but so must pitcher Rollie Fingers.

National League East:

1. Chicago Cubs - This will be the first year since 1945 the team will be in the World Series. Acquisitions of pitcher
Ray Fontenot and outlielder
Brian Dayett will be a plus.

2. New York Mets - Look for the young pitching to have an off-season this year The Mets year should be '86.

3. Montreal Expos - This should be the surprise team of the NL East. Each year this team is picked to win the divi-sion, but the fifth place finish last season has dropped its

4. Pittsburgb Pirates - If the Bues get any hitting out of new acquisitions outfielders George Hendrick and Steve Kemp and a better year from third baseman Bill Madlock, they could move-up higher than fourth.

5. St. Louis Cardinals - The big names have left the '82 championship team with the exit of reliever Bruce Sutter. The starting pitchers will have to have a good year.

Philadeiphia Phillies -After being in the World Series in 1983, the Phila will hit rock bottom. Pitchers Steve Carlton and Jerry Koosman are past their prime.

the return of third baseman Bob Horner will help inch them past San Diego.

San Diego Padres - The unimpressive showing of Dick Williams' Padres in the World Series will continue to some extent in 1985.

3. Los Angeles Dodgers -New acquisition Al Oliver still has a couple of years in him. Some of the young players should have a better year.

Houston Astros - Even though the Texas team finished second in the division last year, but the rest of the division is improved.

5. San Francisco Glants - The team's biggest change is that right fielder Jack Clark is gone. The Giants in turn received prospective, super-star outfielder David Green.

6. Cincinnati Reds - Head-aches are on order from April to September for player-man-ager Pete Rose.

In the plsyoffs, Toronto will defeat the White Sox; Cubs will knock off Atlanta.

National League West:

1. Atlanta Braves - The consistion of Bruce Sutter and games.

In the World Series, the Cube will topple the Blue Jaya in size games.

Federal gov't moves toward right direction

We all have to live with the realities of economics

We all have to live with the realities of economics whether we want to or not. Unfortunately, a number of people in positions of power in our country have demonstrated a proclivity to ignore this fact, individuals have inadvertently caused the majority of our nation's unemployment through passage of the minimum wage law.

Because of this legislation, thousands of people with minimal skills are denied jobs and forced onto the welfare rolls.

The Reagan and ministration has recently announced a processl to reduce the minimum wage law. The reagant process of the proposal carries fines and all errins for those firms which attempt to use the law for exploitative purposes. From a purely pragmatic point of view, this is a long overdue step my the first of the process of the process

record Women

Before the Harper women's track season began, head coach Renee Zellner was unsure of what competition was ahead for the team.

Last Saturday in Chicago, the team got their first taste of competition at the North Park Relays. Harper fared well as three personal bests and two school records were posted.

Michelle Mellin and Chris Schlangen marked personal bests in the javelin at 89 feet 11 and one-quarter inches and 89 feet 8 and one-half inches

The other personal best was recorded by Missy Zurawski as she ran the 400 hurdles in 73.1 seconds. Zurawski was also responsible for the two school records set. She ran the 100 yard high hurdles in 16.13 seconds and long jumped 14 feet 10 inches.

Results of competitors from other events are as follows: shot put. Chris Schlangen, 33 feet 7 inches, Dawne Finzel, 32 feet 5 inches, and Paula Tas-sell 29 feet 9 inches; discus, Jenny Kowalk, 103 feet 1 and one-half inches and Michelle

"They did really well considering this is the first meet, said Zelliner, "It got thei adrenalin flowing. They know what they need to do for the year."
With the fine showing in the first meet, Zellner feels the don't need muci improvement.

"They need more car diovascular work otherwis-they are fine and right of schedule," she said.

St. Francis downs Harper

The 1985 Harper Hawks baseball team has gotten off to a slow start this season.

On the weekend of March 22, the Hawks traveled to Memphis, Tennessee to play in a four-game tournament. Harper emerged with a 2-2 record.

record.
"We played about what I had expected," said head coach Bob Frantell.

The Hawks first lost to Moraine Valley 9-4. The next game had pitcher Kurt Steifer pitching a 3-hit game to beat Tennessee's Shelby State 3-2.

If the win picked up the team's spirit, they certainly exhibited it by pounding Waubonsee 14-2 on a Joe Kowalski 2-hitter.

"I'm pleased with the team as a group," said Frantell, "I think we'll be coming back a better team."

Baseball

The final two games in March were cancelled due to inclement weather. Monday, April I, Harper resumed their schedule by playing St. Fran-cis College in Joliet. Hawks' starting pitcher Joe Kowalski gave up only four hits, but one

"Our hitting isn't real goo right now," said Frantell "We're not aggressive enough not taking it to the other team It's not a lack of effort, just lack of experience."

The loss dropped the Hawk record to 2-3 as they head int games against Morton. Thorr ton, and Waubonsee this week

This Saturday, the Haw take on the Triton Trojans in 12 p.m double-header at Re reation Park in Arlingto Heights.

The vote total of 273 was 41 less than last year's election, even though free donuts and coffee were served to voters.

Scallon attributed the lower than expected turnout to the short time allowed for campaigning.

Scallon also indicated the drop in votes could be attributed to an unusually high turnout last year.

Opinion

Dotson denial is a slap in the face

Cook County Circuit Court Judge Richard Samuels has single-handedly set women's rights back 25 years by his recent decision to send Gary Dotson back to prison.

In 1979. Dotson was convicted of raping Cathleen Crowell Webb based mostly on her testimony. Since that time, Webb's conscience required her to admit she had lied on the witness stand to hide her sexual liaison with a boyfriend.

Webb had nothing to gain from admitting her perjury other than the moral satisfaction of correcting a past mistake. She actually had much to lose known the national attention such an action would gather. Webb was motivated to come forward with her admission in order to let the truth be finally heard.

Samuels though, chose to attribute her confession to some unnamed ulterior motive. He refused to acknowledge she was now telling the correct story.

acknowledge sne was now terming the control By doing so he said that, in effect, the distaff side is incapable of either suffering the human weaknesses in all of us or exhibiting the moral fortitude required to admit making a grievious error.

Because of his sexist attitude, not only has an inno-cent man been returned to complete a 25- to 50 year prison sentence for a crime he did not commit, but the work of many dedicated citizens to cradicate archaic double standards has been tossed into the

The possibility exists Samuels may have felt some type of personal grudge against the principals in this travesty of justice.

As it stands. Webb can't be convicted of perjury because of the statute of limitations.

Dotson refused to admit guilt from the beginning however the majority of criminals also deny they committed their crimes.

Perhaps Samuels takes this combination as a per-sonal affront to the dignity of the bench and wants to "make an example" or seek revenge on the two by upholding the conviction.

Ineither case, his actions are dead wrong. Denying the fact that women are full-fledged human beings. acpable of both weakness and courage as any man, is deplorable.

We urge Illinois Governor James Thompson to review the matter and the petitions from the citizens of the state and fully pardon Dotson.

We also urge the appropriate authorities to investi-gate Samuels' court. We can only wonder how many other injustices have resulted from callous misap-plication of the law possibly tinged with vestiges of

Velvet Underground rises from the dead

By Andy Teng
Entertainment Editor
To say "Velvet Under round" was an original band
ould point out the obvious hey were more than just nother band

Despite their failure in the search for success. "Velvet Underground" pushed their way through commercialism to develop a true art form with their instruments.

What the band lacked in rec-ognition they made up for in tyle and creativity.

Their music was experimental. The band was conceived from an earlier project proposed by Pickwick records. Lou Reed, the heart of the Underground, was a songwriter for the company.

He found himself in the spot-ight when he came up with a ong called "The Ostrich."

Realizing the potential of the song, Pickwick formed the band "The Primitives" and inducted several other mem-bers to play with Reed the single. However, one of the members. John Cale, stayed with Reed after the failure of the project. From there, Ster-ling Morrison and Maureen Tucker joined the band to form the Velvet Underground.

It was clear the Under ground was uncompromising in its music. Instead of writing songs to increase record sales.

The second and third albums became so different the band was losing many of its fans.

The experimenting lead to the addition of several tracks of noises on the third album. With this, the Underground ran into trouble with the record company.

The band left their original label, MGM, and recorded their last LP, "Loaded" with Atlantic records. At this point, the band broke up.

the band broke up.

"VU" contains tracks from different times in the lifetime of Underground. The second side contains a better mixture than the first side. Side two is stronger and more consistent with rock 'n' roll than it is with the first side.

Recorded in May of '69, the band recorded the best son of the LP 'Foggy Notion,' a guitar-slingin' drum-poundin' rock ballad. This song is a good example of dance music from the 60's. Its upbeat tempo and groovy rhythm is really ear pleasing.

"Temptation Inside Your Heart," is a well-produced low-keyed song. Reeds mellow and subtle voice complements the weeping guitar sound.

"I Can't Stand It" is a cool rockin' tune. Backed with interesting bass and drum beats, it's a smooth composition.

"VU" demonstrates that the Velvet Underground were years ahead of their music generation. after the turn of two decades, the band is still generating a lot of attention.

As any aware individual knows, American society accelerating at a very fast pace.

Unfortunately, some citizens are not very well quipped to handle the speed of change and must ecessarily move out of the way.

In today's traffic, many seniors are unable to cope ith the increased number of vehicles and/or their creased speed.

Those in their seventies most likely learned to rive about 55 years ago; in the 1930's. Since that me, the number of cars on the road has increased remendously.

Because of the increase, the interval between those ars has decreased. These cars are now driving aster yet closer together, and the reaction time meded to avoid accidents has decreased.

It is a fact of life that as one ages, one's reflexes ave a marked tendency to slow down. Unfortuately, this is a medical fact with few exceptions.

A few months ago, the television program Sixty fundes ran a segment describing senior citizens' riving records. The examples presented in the story are horrifying.

Some of the drivers were barely aware they had accidents, much less of the incidents leading up

In the recent Florida accident, the driver had trav-led down an airport runway prior to driving

In this case too, the driver was "confused" about be events leading to the incident.

While we realize seniors have the right to travel onywhere they desire the same as any American, we believe the time has come to require some type of mental accuity and physical reflex testing of these

This is not to say we desire to discriminate against whors and force them to remain in their homes, only hat we hope to improve the safety of all drivers on our nation's highways.

To deny an airplane pilot a license because of medi-cal reasons causes no hue or cry from the country, but denying a grandfather a driver's license to oper-ste his car would surely raise the hackles.

In the realistic view however, one must consider the potential deaths which might have occured had an airplane been landing at the time the car had occupied that runway.

Requiring some minimum standards would be fair and would increase the safety of traffic throughout our highway system.

Opinion

Stop the shabby treatment of students

College life allows students the opportunity to learn a multitude of facts both outside and inside the classroom.

Close association with peers from all walks of life provides an environment in which the true ignorance and hypocrisy of social discrimination can be seen with crystal clarity.

It is unfortunate, however, that some college employees have not learned that lesson. Worse yet is the lack of understanding by these few individuals that it is the students whom they treat so shabbily who pay the tuition allowing the employees their weekly paychecks.

Though the majority of college employees are courteous and respectful toward all they meet, a small minority either forgot or never learned these basic human skills.

basic human skills.

Through the course of the work day, students attempting to conduct business with these employees are treated as if they were interruptions to be tolerated instead of the reasons the employees have jobs.

We realize some students are rude and discour-teous and regret the actions of the few. The majority of students, though, are neither rude nor discour-teous but nonetheless bear the burden of the employ-ees bad attitudes.

Some individuals do not have the personalities nec-essary for public-contact jobs.
Even in the retail trades some employees are bet-ter suited than others for customer relations.
Continuing the metaphor, students are Harper's customers. We are the ones who hire the school to perform the services related to our purchasing of education.

Were a K-Mart cashier to act rudely toward a cus-tomer, that employee would soon learn the meaning of the verb form of cashier: they would be fired.

We believe supervisors at all levels need to take an objective look at how students are treated by those whom they manage.

If it appears that a particular employee has diffi-culty maintaining a customer-service attitude, that individual should be reassigned to another area of

If the supervisor himself fails to understand the similarity between the students he serves and a retail store's customers, perhaps he should consider a different line of work in which customer contact is unimportant.

A look in the crystal ball at this year's Harper graduates graduation.

The last weeks of school always drag by like glaciers moving uphill but the uncertainty beyond graduation is new Having never before graduated from institutions of higher learning, we suffer feelungs of uneasiness akin to those from a foreign language restaurant menu.

"What are my prospects in the job market?" we ask our-selves Despite the confidence we had when we chose our majors, we can't help but feel anxious as we contemplate the realities finally facing us.

Well gentle readers, never fear, your intrepid columnist is again prepared to answer the questions burning in your feb-rile minds.

I am graduating this semester too and will soon face the emptiness of trying to mar-ket my own freshly-printed condentials In preparation for this blessed event. I have researched our prospects and will share my findings with

Keep in mind the fact that the job market changes almost daily. The prospects you have today will almost surely disap-pear tomorrow, so by the end of the semester, this column could be completely outdated.

Dear Editor,
"Violence is a product of change," said the handsome South African diplomat in the April 25 Harbinger - and the Harbinger let this outrageous lie about South Africa's apartheid policy stand unanalyzed.

Women finish close 2nd at state meet

Staff Writer
Last Friday night the Harper women's track team went to the Region IV State track meet. They went with one thing in mind: to do their very best and to be the best.
Some things just never go
the way they are planned
though and the team finished second to their biggest rival.
Triton.

second to their biggest rival, Triton.
"We missed being state champs by two points," said head coach Renee Zeliner. Two points can ring night-mares to some coaches but to Zeliner?

"I am very proud of this team," she said. "Everybody did their job. "These girls are a very spe-cial group."

Zellner feels proud, but to this proud coach there was one thing that could have made this celebrated year even bet-ter: to have been coach of the year.

"The men coaches vote for coach of the year but we (women) only have to win the sport and that coach becomes coach of the year." said Zellner.

means sometning is wrong.
The team had more personal bests this week. Missy Zurawski, who had two of the four personal bests set, took first in the 100 meter hurdles at 4.73 seconds, first in the long jump at 16 feet 9 inches, first in the high jump and second in the 400 meter hurdles.

"Her leap in the long jump rose a whole foot and three inches," said Zellner. "She was a high flyer."

The women also had a clean sweep in the discuss as Jenny Kowalik took first with a 10 foot throw. Chris Schlangen to the control of the contr throw.

Patti Tribuzio's 68.1 in the 400 meters was not only a personal best but also captured a fifth place.
Michelle Mellin placed fifth in both the long jump (14 feet 2 and one half inches) and the 200 meter dash (29.04 seconds).

200 meter dash (29.04 seconds).
The 400 meter relay team finished third, a team that was seeded fifth.
"If we would have had a mile relay team, we would have won the meet," said Zellner.
Hard work is the key to excellence. This year's team has that key and the lock too.

"She needs about another foot to quality for nationals," said coach Zeilner.
"We haven t been working with her in this event, just with the hurdles."
Just think; if the coaches would have worked with her, ahe probably could give Carl Lewis a run for the money.

"At nationals, I hope I car get a better time. I don't want to get killed."

Missy has been working her way up but, as we all know, the perfect athlete is the one that other people look up to. For Missy Zurawski there is no more looking up, because she is already the perfect athlete.
