Scope and Contents note

The records of the Faculty Senate consist of administrative materials, such as copies of the Senate's constitution and by laws, as well as legal records pertaining to the coordination of strike activities and the recognition of the organization. At times, the Senate has had tense relationships with the college's administration, and thus the records also include photographs of teachers on strike or in contract negotiations with Harper College, and documentation of no confidence votes. All contracts agreed to between the Senate and Harper College are included in this collection.

Restriction on Records is Lifted

When portions of these records were donated to the Harper College Archives by members of the Faculty Senate, they requested that access to these materials be restricted until the president of the college at the time (Dr. Breuder) retired. That president stepped down in 2009, and thus the records that were restricted are now open for access to all.
